Community response good

Carnival plans set

Things are falling into place for the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce first annual winter carnival March 8, 9 and 10.

That's the word from carnival chairman Merv Pasula who has been working behind the scenes on the winter promotion for the past six weeks.

Pasula reports that response from the entire community is more than he expected. "People are volunteering everyday. They just want to be involved," he says.

Organisers of the fashion show, part of the opening night celebrations, are extremely pleased with their success to date. Fifteen models have been lined up with good response from the merchants on spring fashions.

The fashion show will be a 45-minute feature followed by a presentation by the four young ladies vying for winter carnival queen. A supper and dance will be held in conjunction with this lineup. This event will be held at the Rec Plex.

The new Park Valley indoor swimming pool is offering free swimming on the second day, from 5 to 7 p.m. Several events are planned for the two-hour period including a polar bear dip, belly-dip contest, Tarsan and Jane yelling contest and a light workout for seniors.

A highlight of the second day will be the crowning of the carnival queen during the evening performance of the ice show in the arena. The ice show will also feature a Saturday afternoon performance.

The final day is packed with many events from snow golf, toboggan races, cross country skiing to a pre-school program, all at the Drayton Valley golf course.

Because of limited parking at the golf course, a bus service will operate from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., leaving at 15-minute intervals from the arena and golf course. The cost for the bus fare will also get people into the grounds.

If Pasula and his committee had any concerns it would be over the lack of snow. "If there's a problem, we'll get snow from somewhere," Pasula promised.

Games days changed

The dates have been changed for the 1986 Alberta Senior Games to be hosted by the Town of Drayton Valley.

The new dates are Saturday, Sunday and Monday (July 19, 20 and 21).

In speaking for the change, John Hansen told the host games committee last week, "The hotels will not give us a commitment for a Thursday night. That's one of their busy nights."

As a result, the organizing committee decided to drop the Thursday date and pick up the Monday.

The change in days is not expected to cause any problems for the 400 seniors who are expected to participate in the games.

However, some costs, due to the change in dates, will result.

The games committee and the town have both ordered stationary with the old dates.

The meeting heard that one company had already spent $2,500 on stationary including the old games' dates.

An attempt will be made by the games committee and the town to use up the stationary printed if possible, and change the dates later in the year.

Arete brings on laughs

Making an audience laugh is hard work at the best of times, considering the wide boundaries good humor incorporates.

Making an audience laugh without using words — only expressions and actions — seems near impossible, like doing an intricate paint-by-number with a spraycan.

But Don Spino, Randy Birch and Kevin McKendrick seem to thrive on the near-impossible in their work as Alberta's, and possibly Canada's, only physical-comedy trio, Arete.

The fourth show in Drayton Valley Presents season package, Arete proved actions speak louder than words, even in comedy.

A simply stare or a quizzical look was enough to start ripples of laughter through the crowd at H.W. Pickup Junior High School Friday.

And like in most comedy, nothing and no one is safe from being spoofed or made fun of. From superheroes and drugstore cowboys to tourists and rock bands, Arete used their unique talents for acrobatics, mime and acting to transform everyday images into comic routines with universal appeal.

some 10 years, the Calgary-based trio take their cues and inspiration from the likes of Jackie Gleason, Buster Keaton and Red Buttons, says McKendrick, who makes a distinction between Arete's physical comedy and traditional mime.

Where mime uses the painted black and white face and relies entirely on precise gestures rather than words, physical comedy is much more aerobic and uses some words and at times, just noises, to enhance the actions presented.

In Europe, where audiences are much more accustomed to traditional mime, McKendrick says Arete's brand of physical comedy was new and innovative. D.V. Presents next production will be PrimaDonna March 18 at the Rec Plex Theatre.

Mill future pending

Conflicting dates may delay a final decision on Makin's pulp and fine paper mill proposed for Drayton Valley.

Originally, the provincial government was to complete their financial study on the project by tomorrow (Thursday). However, former Drayton Valley mayor Nevis LaBranche who works for Makin says the conflicting date is March 4.

LaBranche is not sure where the March 4 date came from but if that is the date the government is working on, it will only delay a decision by the weekend.

Farmers to receive provincial assistance

By Phil Courterelle

Drayton Valley and area farmers will get some provincial assistance to help protect hay supplies from starving deer and elk.

The provincial government approved a $665,000 feeding program Feb. 13 which will help build wooden feeders and supply designated areas with hay for elk and pelleted rations for deer.

The program is expected to commence sometime within the next week, says local Fish and Wildlife officer Don Onofrychuk but it will require volunteer help to set up.

Deer and elk have been forced to feed off hay supplies due to harsh winter conditions and are creating problems for some area farmers.

"They (the animals) are hungry, let's face it. There's nothing to eat," says Steve Yurchak, one farm owner who's had elk do extensive damage.

Last fall, about 25 to 30 elk moved onto Yurchak's property, about 23 kilometres northwest of Drayton Valley, and have damaged about 45 bales of hay.

"This year's been a severe winter, the ground is all ice and snow," he said, adding the elk — which are grass and hay eaters — are unable to uncover forage.

A small herd of "pet deer" are also using a pasture on Yurchak's three-section farm.

The animals are approaching the house "and putting their nose against the windows, that's how hungry they are," he said adding, "I'm not worried about the deer, I can handle the deer's feeding expenses. It's the elk I'm concerned about."

Yurchak approached Onofrychuk last December and the Fish and Wildlife office agreed to buy 15 hay bales to feed the elk in a segregated area and to keep them away from Yurchak's and his son, Kim's, hay supply. A Zon Gun was also installed to keep elk away from the round stacks.

When weather was warm, the gun kept the elk at bay, Yurchak said, but when it got cold the "propane-powered noisemaker" shut off and the elk returned to the stacks.

With the government's announcement Feb. 13, distribution of wood feeders and hay should begin later this week, Onofrychuk said.

Onofrychuk's office will determine priority areas — where elk and farmers are hardest hit by the winter — before distributing feed.

According to the Fish and Wildlife biologist that set up the program, the department was aware of the feed problem last fall and started to develop a program "when we first saw how early winter started."

He added the program is modelled after similar feeding programs in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

"The Alberta government has never had a feed program like this before and we haven't had a winter severe enough in the last several years to justify a feed program," he said.

"We're trying to learn as much as we can from their (Saskatchewan and Manitoba's) work and make as few mistakes as we have to."

While the government already knows some specific areas where forage problems exist, Millson said the department will need "as much help as it can get" from farmers and landowners to determine other areas.

Other areas in the province include: the Edson-Waterton Park foothills; the Wainwright, Hardisty, Provost area; the Red Deer River Valley and the Bashaw area.

If winter in the southern part of the province becomes worse, the government will extend the program to include other areas, Millson said.

Who's watching who?

The warm weather brings a lot of creatures out from their winter stomping grounds to do a little snooping around and even a little scrounging for the goodies mankind has left behind.

Shop locally

Dollars spent at home help small business

There once was a dollar all crisp and new Spent in a store by someone like you.
Someone thinking of their hometown,
Who wanted the dollars to stay around.
The store gave the dollar to farmer Brown,
Who had brought some of his produce to town.

The farmer's car needed tires and repairs,
So he went to another place for his wares.
'Course they never kept it but spent it for parts,

Do you realize what this really starts?
A chain of reaction that gladdens our hearts.

The partsman put it back on its way,
For his wife he bought a dress that very day.
So the clothier was able to fix the store,
That kept the dollar going some more.
Then the carpenter had something to do,
Someone benefited — maybe you!
For gas or drugs it could have been spent,
We'll never know which way it went.
But here's one thing we know is true,
It's terrific what your dollar will do.

It builds our community everywhere.
Can we count on you to do your share??

Canoe pagaent to visit Drayton Valley

One of the events Drayton Valley residents can circle on their summer calendar is an overnight visit by the Canadian canoe pagaent on July 3.

The Chamber of Commerce tourist committee will handle the arrangements.

Food banks are gaining a lot of ink around the country with Edmonton and Red Deer always conducting campaigns to collect food, while Leduc has expanded their operation. However, a check shows Drayton Valley doesn't have a food bank and no one seems to have any plans to start one.

Carol Ricks at social services in Drayton Valley said "there could be a need," while United Church minister Robert Aldrich says, "I'm not aware of one here, but I've been watching for one."

Our findings also learned that many people who find themselves unemployed move to the bigger cities. We were also told that the rate of unemployment is surprisingly high in Drayton Valley.

Editor's Notes

DID YOU KNOW? the actual allowable deficit at the Park Valley indoor swimming pool is $100,000?

The 1985 Easter Seal campaign will take place throughout the province March 8 to April 8. They hope to raise $507,000.

With the good weather of late, more joggers have been seen around Drayton Valley. If these people are going to run after dark, the proper clothes would be recommended. One motorist reports almost hitting a jogger near Sekura Auctions last week.

June Merwin of Violet Grove encountered quite a scary situation last week.

While driving home, just off Highway 22/ Violet Grove turnoff, a big barrel fell off a passing truck. It appeared for a few seconds that Merwin's car and the bouncing barrel were on a collision course. Luckily, the barrel just missed her car and went into the ditch.

Items falling off passing vehicles is something that bothers me when I see a truck with an over-sized load. It's something we all have to be aware of.

Fifth season unsettling

By Carol Dietrich

Over the years, I've been taught about the four-seasoned Canadian year. I learned about the windy fall, the cold snowy winter, the fresh green spring, and the hot summer.

But no one told me about the fifth season. You know, the one between winter and spring. The one where it can be melting one day and blizzarding the next.

It's that delightful time of year when you're not quite sure if you should wear winter boots or rubber boots or if a blouse would be more suitable than a sweater.

Perspectives

At least all the other seasons are cut and dried. You know when they are supposed to start and end and you can plan your wardrobe and activities with a degree of confidence.

But this fifth season baffles me. Does it serve any useful purpose? Are there any sports that can be played just as easily in the snow and the mush?

Is there any footwear that can function as well

The Battle River hills provide some beautiful winter scenery.

in ice and snow as it can in mud and slush?

And I must say it is a little trying on the nerves to drive on snowy, icy, slushy and dry roads all in the same trip.

Those who enjoy the challenge of the unexpected may not mind this season at all. They may not mind starting their car in the morning not knowing if they'll have to remove snow or ice from their windshield.

But somehow the suspense is lost on me. Call me boring or predictable, but I want to know if I should plug my car in or not.

And I would appreciate knowing if the car wash I just got will last at least one day.

However, since we have little or no control over the seasons, we might as well acknowledge this one and give it a name.

Let's see. How about sprinter or wintering? Not bad. It almost has a ring to it. Back in the sprinter of '62 . . .

A new meaning for the word and just think of all the new stories you can tell your grandchildren.

Comment termed negative

Dear Editor,

It was with dismay that I read Phil Courterelle's 'Comment' in the Feb. 20 Western Review.

The tone of the article is negative and inflammatory and suggests that some form of covert operation is underway.

What is underway is that a group of citizens are interested in increasing the recreational choices available to Drayton Valley. We are undertaking a pre-feasibility study to determine the level of interest and also whether or not a multi-use facility is within reach for the community.

Proposed is a facility to replace the existing curling rink, and provide further facilities such as racquetball, weight rooms and other amenities commonly provided in similar communities. However, this is a study only, which will look at all alternatives including those proposed by Mr. Courterelle.

In rebuttal to Phil's contention that "scheduling and ice time" are the main issues with the town unable to justify two arenas with costs that "simply don't relate", I must state that fact-finding and completing an economic analysis are the objectives of our group. If Phil has some deep insight into the costs and benefits of a new arena or multi-purpose facility, he is welcome to provide me with such information. Furthermore, there has been a suggestion that our group would not gain the co-operation of "those in charge". From the onset we have kept the recreation board, town council and the mayor informed of our objectives. Please bear in mind this is not the Soviet Union.

My final contention is that the only viewpoint worse than that of short-sightedness, is short-sightedness based on ignorance. We are looking at public demand and availability of funding from all sources. If our pre-feasibility study is encouraging, we will present our findings to the public for their consideration.

Sincerely,
Tim Stark

Options must be considered

Dear Editor,

A group of people from the Drayton Valley community are getting together to undertake a survey of the recreational ice requirements of our town in order to determine whether there is a need for a new ice facility here. I would like to explain why we feel we should become involved with this and the process that we will be following.

There are always comments being made by arena users about the lack of ice time and the poor condition of the arena, but there has not been an extensive study done recently to determine ways to alleviate these problems.

Our town recreational director is presently involved in defining our recreational needs on a more general basis, and the Drayton Valley Recreation Board is clearly moving away from direct involvement in this type of specific activity and is encouraging more volunteer participation.

As a result, the individuals in this group decided to get together to provide a service for our town and surrounding area by directing the dissatisfaction into a positive search for solutions.

We do not feel that in taking on this study we are entering into battle with town administration. Rather, we will be keeping in close contact with those in authority: it is only through good communication and co-operation that any progress can be made.

We are fully aware of the town's present financial burdens and we understand that any construction projects or other alternatives must be totally justified by facts and figures, not opinion.

Our activities to date have included contacting established groups in Drayton Valley for some preliminary response to this project, as well as meeting with representatives from the Provincial Parks and Recreation Department for direction and guidance.

There are many steps to be taken in our research. Capital and operational cost figures from our arena and others in the province must be gathered and carefully studied. The community must be queried in an unbiased fashion to identify attitudes, priorities, numbers of users and alternate sources of funding.

All alternatives must be considered, from renovating the present arena and re-scheduling the ice for more capacity use, to developing the outdoor rink, to building an ice complex with other recreational facilities. Responsibility for building, operation and management of any project does not necessarily have to lay with the town, and other possibilities will be looked into.

It is not realistic to draw any conclusions until this study has been done. We plan to take our time, be well organized and thorough. If anyone would like to have input, or join in this effort, please write to George Bergquist, Box 74, Drayton Valley.

Sincerely,
Marti McKinley

Canada aids threat of global genocide by testing cruise

Dear Editor,

Canada has committed itself to a non-nuclear role in NATO and has no NATO commitment to test the Air Launch Cruise Missile. But through ongoing cruise missile testing Canada has aided the U.S. in bringing us all one step closer to global genocide. Testing of the ALCM is a business agreement between Canada and the U.S.

The arms industry, like any other industry in a consumer-oriented society, depends on a market. This means maintaining a vigorous advertising campaign extolling the need for their product by exploiting our fears. We hear terms like "the window of vulnerability" and the "Soviet strategic advantage," neither of which have been demonstrated to actually exist.

Our government tells us that by testing the cruise and helping develop star wars technology, we are ensuring that the Soviets will bargain in good faith. However, it's the Soviets who have repeatedly called for a nuclear weapons freeze, even though they are behind in the arms race. They have unilaterally pledged no first strike and have signed the SALT 2 Treaty. On the other hand the Americans insist on retaining exclusive right to a first strike option and refuse to sign SALT 2.

Letters

Canada joined with the U.S. and a handful of other nations to vote against a UN resolution calling for a multilateral freeze. This does not support our stated policy of "pursuing verifiable aims control and disarmament agreements and our commitment to peaceful settlements of disputes." Canada continues to test a weapon that is not verifiable and therefore jeopardizes future arms control agreement.

No need for the cruise has ever been clearly demonstrated by its proponents, unless it is used to initiate nuclear attacks on "the enemy" in a limited or winnable nuclear war.

Most experts agree that there is no such thing as a winnable or limited nuclear war — at best it is a remote possibility. The 26,000 nuclear weapons, many of them safely protected from any Soviet first strike by their location on the American SLBM submarine fleet, is more than enough to provide a defense against Soviet aggression.

By supporting the testing of the cruise, Canadians are significantly increasing the probability of global nuclear holocaust. Both sides must be pressured to stop testing and deployment of these destabilizing weapon systems. It would be easier to control the ALCM in the testing stage than it would be to verify it in the deployment stage.

If America is serious about a freeze they should initiate one while they still have the advantage of being several years ahead of the Soviets in nuclear technology.

Reader thanks lodge staff

Dear Editor,

Congratulations on running a fine, unbiased weekly.

This is my first letter to the editor since Mr. Stuart Adams departed and Mr. Ryan took over. The paper improves immensely with each issue — particularly the colorful local sports and the minor hockey here.

Also the curling and the beautiful new pool — every bit as nice as the outdoor job at Sylvan Lake. We have everything here that they have in Edmonton at sometimes more reasonable prices.

You people in this neck of the woods should see the excellent work done by the staff under the baton of Inga Hawruk and those associated with the kitchen. I will mention a few who came to my attention.

Mary Ayott and maintenance man delux John, Cathy Tutor, Bev Reid and her sister, Alberta Schink, who has a special talent with clocks of all descriptions, Michelle Tillu and Sophie, Mrs. Pequin from Violet Grove, the health nurses, Peggy Tifer and Betty Bouchard, Pete Pitu, Mabel Byers, Mabel Bryant, Mary Saunders, Emily Pelkus and all the big and little ministers without portfolio.

The staff of Ritchie Woods, Kathy Proudfoot and all the blondes, redheads, dyed-heads and grey-headed squares who have faith in "our town", its bright future.

If all the churches will co-operate and harmonize for the good of humanity and help to fill the stomachs of the underprivileged in Ethiopia, China and India — all over the world where the dear little hands and sunken eyes of the million who are unfed!

Ask the minister of any of the churches; Bob Aldrich, Rev. Heinenman, Wes Long, Father Carrol of the Catholic Church and support our prayer, week with something tangible besides empty words. Talk is cheap. Come to the lodge and have a game of pool, play cards or just "shoot the breeze."

Saturday morning we have shuffleboard and we have our Drop-In Centre where you are most welcome to have a cup of tea or engage in some positive thinking or reading. We have a very good library.

We also have the best looking gals in any town near Edmonton.

Keep up the good work Western Review and never look back.

Scholarship trust plan on Monday agenda

The Canadian Scholarship Trust Foundation will hold an informal information session at St. Anthony school in Drayton Valley on Monday, March 4 at 8 p.m.

Representatives of the foundation will be present to discuss their scholarship trust plan.

Chamber moving

The Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce hope to move into new office quarters next month.

The chamber has secured office space across from the post office and at the present time, are advertising for a clerk-typist.

In the past, most of the chamber business was handled by president Chad Nichols out of his office at Nichols Real Estate.

For their new office, the chamber is looking for used office equipment. If anyone can assist the group, call Bernie at 542-5011 or 542-7578.

The foundation is a non-profit organization that rely very heavily on the enthusiastic support of subscribers, schools and daycare to share the knowledge of the plan. Even with such support a number of parents are not fully aware of how the trust plan can benefit their children.

As a result the Canadian Scholarship Trust Foundation will be sponsoring a number of information seminars throughout Alberta. The purpose is to encourage parents to set up education trust plans for their children.

The Canadian Scholarship Trust Plan is a pooled savings program where parents from right across Canada join together for one purpose — to provide funds for their children's post secondary education. The program has the added benefit of having certain tax advantages.

The program started in 1980 to promote and encourage further education. At present there are more than 180,000 children enrolled and the number is growing monthly. More than $100 million dollars have been returned to parents and students to date. The only enrollment stipulation is that the child be under 10 when the trust fund account is started.

The foundation offers important social benefits as well as tax savings for those parents who participate. The sole purpose is to promote family saving as a means of ensuring higher education opportunities for our children.

Games committee preparing budget

Room, meal price tag $100,000

Accommodation and meals for the 1986 Alberta Senior Games to be held in Drayton Valley is expected to be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

John Hansen told the organising committee last week that his preliminary figures had meal costs at $56,000 and accommodation for the expected 400 seniors at $53,400.

The cost of the meals is expected to drop as the caterer making the quote based it on three full meals per day, not realizing that box lunches are used. Any food donations will be deducted from the meal budget which is expected to affect the final figures.

Hansen has already booked 519 beds, which includes 387 hotel/motel beds at a cost of $17,400 and six 22-bed portables at a cost of $35,000 plus transportation costs from Spruce Grove to the games' site.

Two motels and two hotels will also be available for VIP's and media people in Drayton Valley to cover the games.

Hansen has checked out a number of locations in town for the six 22-bed portables with a site near the hospital at the top of his list.

The organizing committee is hoping to use the Rec Plex to feed the visiting seniors and officials.

On another financial note, Heather Lederis of the Alberta Sport Council, attended last week's meeting and presented chairman Les Bannerman with $5,000 in operating funds. Another $20,000 is expected shortly.

Besides bringing the money, Lederis said, "We're interested in seeing some of the plans. We also have a small concern as the accommodation is different from the original bid."

Originally, the games were to be held July 18, 19 and 20 but the host committee had to change that to July 19, 20 and 21 because they were unable to secure hotel accommodation on a Thursday night.

Council dogged by stray population

Councillor Bill Paniec wants something done about the dog problem in Drayton Valley.

Paniec told council last week, "I see where 85 dog licenses were issued in 1984. That covers all the dogs in my area. What about other areas?"

He wants more enforcement of the dog bylaw and realizing this will cost more money, has a solution.

Bill Paniec

The town councillor is suggesting that the present $15 fee for spading be increased to $50 and $60.

In speaking out about the dog problem Paniec added, "I'm expressing the thoughts of many people in this community."

Another member of council, Howard Olsen, agreed with the dog problem, stating, "Lots of dogs don't belong here. Dogs are being dumped in Drayton Valley."

Town manager Manny Doel says, "Dogs are smart. They don't come around when the dogcatcher is in town."

Another concern of Councillor Paniec regarded a complaint he had received about the dogcatcher was showing up several days after a resident had voiced their concerns about roaming dogs.

Mayor Bob Mayhew joined the conversation and said, "more time has been spent in this council talking about dogs than most issues."

The matter has been referred to the transportation committee for study.

FINANCING ALBERTA BUSINESS

The Alberta Opportunity Company provides financial and counselling assistance to small business enterprises.

A Family Business Expands

Wedin's. When you shop in the Ponoka/Central Alberta area you know the name. Eight years ago

Murray Wedin decided to expand that reputation. The plan? A building expansion from 3,000 to 16,000 square feet.

Murray's concept matched Ponoka's need for a good-sized department store with men's, ladies' and children's clothes, shoes and household products. He presented his need for financing to conventional lenders and, ultimately, to AOC.

AOC reviewed Murray's plans and their potential. It was an opportunity worthy of financial support.

The new store opened in 1978. Today Wedin's is recognized as one of the largest independent retailers in Central Alberta, employing 21 people.

If you have a sound business idea, but you're unable to obtain financing through regular sources, call or visit your nearest AOC office and ask for our brochure, Financing Alberta Business.

Warriors played well, but not well enough to beat a strong Hinton Rockies Saturday.

Rival Rockies 'impressive'

The Hinton Rockies were the 'class' of a weekend high school boys' basketball tournament held at Frank Maddock High in Drayton Valley.

The Rockies defeated the host Drayton Valley Warriors 67-40 in the final game Saturday to finish with a perfect 3-0 record, while Barry Swap's Warriors placed second with a 2-1 showing. Stony Plain had one win in three starts and the Breton Cougars were winless in three games.

Six-foot-five forward Scott Holmes led the Rockies throughout the tournament topping an outstanding day on the courts with 30 points against the Warriors. On the other side of the scoresheet, Dwain Hausherr had a good final to finish with 21 points.

Warriors' coach Swap was not dejected with the loss.

"They're an impressive squad. I've seen them before but this is the first time we've played them. Their height (six players over six foot) is a big asset along with their quickness at guard," Swap said.

Commenting on his own squad Swap added, "We're young, with six Grade 10s and five Grade 11 players. I'm pretty happy. There's things we could've done better."

There was also another aspect of the tournament that Swap feels may have affected his players.

"I think the crowd bothered the players. Their family and friends were in the stands. They were a little nervous," he said.

In earlier games for the champion Rockies, Holmes connected for 33 points in a 83-58 romp over Stony and Brian Venance had 25 points in a 97-55 win over the short-handed Cougars.

Kevin Graham hooped 22 points for the Cougars who played without Cliff Ellis, who suffered an ankle injury in the opening play of the tournament, and Wayne Young, who was playing hockey.

In their other two wins, the Warriors downed Stony 54-50 with Hausherr scoring 14 points and Stacy Hesselbarth adding 10 after edging Breton 54-52 in the tourney's opening game. Hausherr had 16 points in that victory with Mark Johns scoring 16 for the Cougars.

This weekend the Rockies and the Warriors join Edson in the conference tournament. Edson, the conference tournament hosts, will be the favorites, as they have beaten the Rockies this season.

The girls also play this weekend at Edson.

Howarth rink dominates mens' 'spiel'

The Don Howarth rink rolled to an impressive victory Sunday to win the 'A' event of the 28th Annual Drayton Valley Mens' Open bonspiel beating the Elson Keown rink 14-5 in 10 ends.

After blanking the first end, Howarth and rinkmates Bud Millard, Roy Chapka and Les Banerman, took a 2-0 lead in the second. The two rinks blanked the third with Keown cutting the lead by half in the fourth.

That was as close as Keown could come as Howarth and company dominated the fifth, sixth, eighth and final ends.

Keown scored three in the seventh end and the final four points in ninth.

In the opening game, Howarth dropped the E. Lambert rink, then the L. Paslawski and J. Hoshowski rinks in the quarter and semi-final games respectively in the first event.

While Keown's rink lost the event final, they earned the local aggregate since Howarth's Bud Millard was not a local resident. Also curling with Keown were Carl Passy, Rick Collyer and Hal VanEmber.

In the second event the Marshal Van Der Ploeg rink stopped L. Fink 19-3 in 10 ends.

After falling to a 1-0 deficit, Van Der Ploeg scored 12 points in three successive ends and seven more in the ninth to defeat Fink, who scored only two more points in the seventh end. The rinks blanked ends two, six and eight.

Van Der Ploeg's rink includes Chris Tucker, Ken Van Der Ploeg and Brent Innis.

Van Der Ploeg lost to B. Urchysyn in their opening game and went on to beat P. Saunders, D. Anderson and G. Bowen for a berth in the event final.

The third event final was a match-up between two Calgary-based rinks, Nuemier and C. Anderson.

The rinks curled four blank ends before Anderson took a one-point lead in the fifth and added two more in sixth.

While Nuemier was able to stop Anderson for two more ends, they were unable to score any points and lost 5-0. Anderson scored three more in ninth end.

Anderson lost to the D. Boliantz and B. Fiveland rinks before beating R. Ganske and Duane's Auto for the third event berth. Included on the rink are: Gary Anderson, Graham Cox and Mark Cauldwell.

The Drayton Valley Ladies' Open Bonspiel is scheduled for this weekend starting Friday.

"We're opening a can of worms."

Claire Carefoot
The aforementioned comment was made during last week's Drayton Valley town council meeting, upon receipt of a request from the Chamber of Commerce to waive fees for facilities that would be used during their March 8-10 winter carnival.

While it was the first such request that council have faced this year for a relaxation of rental fees, it's not the first we've heard of, nor will it be the last.

Let's back up in time.
As we understand it, because it was long before we arrived on the local scene, the highland dancers were 'given a break' on rental fees by the recreation board.

Earlier this month, Parry Mohn, representing men's and ladies' basketball in Drayton Valley, appeared before the recreation board asking for a similar break on the $330 rental fees his group was facing for a two-day tournament. The request was turned down due to existing policy.

Mohn questioned that policy because of the 'break' the highland dancers had received.

The recreation board box score, if you care to keep track, is now 1-1.

The scene, and the accompanying public pressure, now switches to town council.

The Chamber of Commerce will be using town facilities for their winter carnival and are asking for a relaxation of the user fees.

Comments flew around council chambers with suggestions of a grant in lieu of.

Councillor Carefoot said, "If we give a grant in lieu of, it will open a can of worms."

She made a motion not to waive the fees and against issuing a grant. It was defeated by a one-sided 6-1 score. It was obvious from the score that council wanted to do something, but what?

Town manager Manny Deol said, "We will talk to the chamber," and recreation director Dennis Woolsey added, "We will do something."

That 'something' bothers me. What will it be? Free use of town facilities or a grant?

What does Mohn think of all this? He got a 'sorry' from the recreation board. Maybe Mohn should've taken his request to council.

Add to this the 1986 Alberta Senior Games that will be hosted by the Town of Drayton Valley. Will the rental fees for this event be waived?

If the highland dancers got a break, the basketball people and the Chamber of Commerce should get a break.

The 'can of worms' has been opened and it will continue to be a pain in the neck for the recreation board and town council until some definite rules are written in stone.

One possible solution is a financial statement. If a club (basketball) or organization (Chamber of Commerce) approaches the recreation board or council for a relaxation of rental fees, the rules could be pointed out, but at the same time, told to bring a financial statement in, once the event is over. If the event breaks even or makes money, it should be understood that no special considerations would be given, but at the same time, if someone looses their shirt, some help might be forthcoming.

Actually, I don't have any trouble with the recent stand taken by the recreation board over the fact that someone has to pay for the facilities. It's just their policy of giving to one, and not the next.

Hinton finishes first

Blades win 10, miss playoffs

The Drayton Valley Blades ended the 1984-85 Central Alberta Junior 'B' Hockey League season last Friday night on a winning note.

The Blades chalked up their 10th win of the season, a 13-7 romp over the visiting Rocky Mountain House Rockets. Both clubs will miss the playoffs with the fifth place Blades finishing a frustrating season with a 10-30 win/loss record.

Kevin Hutchinson and Paul Stables had productive outings against the Rockets with nine-point performances. Hutchinson notched one goal and eight assists while Stables had five goals and four assists.

Sheldon Dunham and Darren Tuffin had two goals each with Doug Bacon, Keith Bills and Mike Benoit adding singles.

Clint Stewart had four of the Rockets' goals. The teams were tied at 3-3 after the opening period with the Blades leading 7-4 after two.

Simon Kelly, the Blades' coach for their final seven league games (3-4) was pleased with the club's success under his direction. He is the leading candidate for the Blades' coaching job next season.

After last Friday's game Kelly said, "I'm happy for the players. They went out tonight and had fun. And they had fun and won the game."

Kelly, the Blades' third coach this year, is uncertain of his future with the Blades. He will make a decision shortly.

Playoffs start this week in the CAJHL with Hinton and Hobbema meeting in one best-of-five semi-final series with Rimbey and Barrhead tangling in the other. Rimbey travels to Barrhead Thursday night and return home for games Friday and Sunday.

Hinton are the league champs, finishing the regular season one point ahead of Rimbey. Barrhead Elks were third followed by Hobbema. The Drayton Valley Blades were fifth and the first-year Rocky Mountain House Rockets placed sixth.

In weekend play, Hinton nailed down first place with a 9-6 win over Barrhead Saturday while Rimbey won two weekend games, 12-7 over Hinton Sunday and 6-3 over Hobbema Friday.

Heart skip-a-thon set

There's nothing unusual about children spending time jumping rope. But it isn't often that they will put their time and energy into a skip-a-thon to raise money for a good cause.

Students at Elementary 'B' school watched an Edmonton skipping demonstration team Feb. 26 in preparation for their own skip-a-thon fundraiser for the Alberta Heart Foundation, planned for April 19.

The eight-member team from Cardinal Leger Jr. High school performed a number of tricks with single and double ropes. The 'Pulsators' received enthusiastic applause from the local students.

In addition to raising money for the heart foundation, the Elementary 'B' students will be taught about the heart as part of their health curriculum.

"The children will be practicing in phys. ed.," said co-ordinator Chris Kelly. "We have posters showing tricks that the kids can try to copy."

Two weeks before the skip-a-thon the kids will be concentrating on increasing their stamina, he said.

This is the first year the school has taken part in the 'Jump Rope for Heart' fundraiser and student participation is optional. "I think a lot of kids will join in."

"On April 19 there will be teams of six with one member skipping at a time, during three hours."

Elementary 'B' school is the only local school participating in the skip-a-thon this year. Two county schools took part last year.

Providing recreation for the kids is another reason for the event. "We want to improve their lifestyle and fitness," Kelly added.

The demonstration team was well received by the students. Photo by Carol Dietrich

Oilers continue in playoffs

The Norette Oilers are just one series away from entering the provincial Bantam 'B' finals at Fairview as they face Westlock for the zone championship this weekend.

The Drayton Valley minor hockey team trounced Morinville with a 15-0 team effort Friday to win the third round of zone playoffs in Morinville. The team declined a return trip to Centennial Civic Arena conceding the two-game, total-point series to the Oilers.

In previous games, the Oilers best Barhead in two close contests winning 5-2 and 5-3 in the second round. In the opening playoff, Drayton Valley defeated Leduc 9-4 and 18-4.

Coach Jim Johnson said with the same team effort and performance against Westlock as the Oilers had against Morinville, the team has a good chance at making the Alberta finals.

The Westlock series is also based on two games and total points starting March 2. The second game is scheduled March 3.

In other action, the Oilers finished in third place out of 10 teams in the Central Alberta Bantam 'B' Hockey League but will wait to finish their provincial playoffs before entering into the league showdown.

Kelly leading candidate for coaching spot

Simon Kelly is the leading candidate for the Drayton Valley Blades' coaching job next season.

Kelly, the Blades' third coach during the 1984-85 season, finished with an impressive 3-4 win/loss record. He took over from club president Les Sinclair who had replaced Lorne Poulin early in the new year.

George Thiel, the Blades' vice-president, says, "Simon has shown a good effort. The guys seem to play for him and he had control of the players in the box. He is a leading candidate for the coach's job."

Kelly, who was the Blades' trainer before accepting the coaching reins, is interested in the job but will take some time in reaching a decision. At the present time he is working out of town and if that continues, it could affect his final decision.

If Kelly is to accept the Blades' coaching job, look for him to add an assistant coach and manager to his staff.

For Thiel and the Blades it was a very frustrating season. They went through three coaches and missed the playoffs, chalking up a disappointing 10-30 win/loss record.

"We never got in shape at the start of the season. We didn't get enough practice time," Thiel says.

That is one area the Blades' executive hope to improve on, with a request to the ice users' meeting for more and better practice ice. During the season the Blades practiced one night per week from 11:45 p.m. to 1 a.m. Thiel would like to see an earlier practice time due to the number of players in school.

While it was a frustrating year, Thiel says it wasn't all that bad.

"We've had a good year financially. We hope to get new uniforms next season," he added.

About the Blades' fifth place finish and missing the playoffs Thiel says, "It wasn't all that bad when you consider we lost nine players off last year's club that finished fourth."

Blades' coach Simon Kelly.

Rangers lose to Morinville in close match

For two periods Sunday Drayton Valley's Getzinger Rangers appeared headed for the next round of the pee-wee 'B' provincial playoffs.

Then, the roof fell in. After playing to a 7-7 tie with visiting Morinville Saturday afternoon, the Rangers jumped into what seemed a commanding 4-0 lead after two periods in Sunday's game at Morinville. But the Morinville club didn't quit, scoring five third-period goals for a 5-4 win and a 12-11 win in the two-game total goal series.

Morinville tied the game with three minutes remaining and the winning goal, with just 49 seconds left, came while the Rangers were short handed.

Lennard Johnson had two goals for the Rangers with Daylen Pannmuller and Handy Kelso adding singles. The Rangers led 3-0 after the first period and 4-0 after two before Morinville started their comeback with goals at 2:24, 3:02, 7:58, 17 minutes and 19:11.

Johnson had three goals in Saturday's 7-7 tie with the other Rangers' goals coming off the sticks of Kelso, Pannmuller, Mike Enyedy and Jason Neudorf.

Morinville led 4-2 after one period of play Saturday and increased that to 6-3 after two before the Rangers mounted their own comeback in the final period to earn the tie.

For the Rangers, it's on with the league playoffs and a weekend two-game total goal series with Ponoka. The first game is slated for Saturday at Ponoka with the second game this Sunday in Drayton Valley.

In an exhibition game last Monday, the Rangers defeated Warburg 11-1 with Kevin Bergquist notching four goals. Craig Warren added three for the Rangers.

School rink plays in provincials

A local high school rink travels to Cold Lake this weekend for the provincial curling playoffs after winning their zone title two weeks ago.

The Deanna Sluchinski rink will make their first appearance at the high school championship marking the third time since 1981 a rink from Frank Madock High School has qualified.

The former junior ladies' zone champion, Sluchinski and teammates Teena Howarth, Kim Bergquist and Jodie Urchysyn are hoping to do well but expect tough competition from competing zones.

Usually, the zone they competed in is "tough to get out of", Sluchinski said, but this year "the competition really wasn't there."

Sluchinski said some of the toughest rinks will be out of city where zones are highly competitive.

When asked how she expected to finish at Cold Lake, Sluchinski said "it's hard to say. It depends on what the other teams are like."

The playoffs will be held at Grand Centre and at the Canadian Forces Base at Cold Lake.

Wildwood boys' girls' win title

The Wildwood Wasps capped their second straight successful basketball season Saturday with both the boys' and girls' teams winning Yellowhead School Division junior high school titles.

The Wildwood girls dropped Jasper 44-20 in the championship final at Nipon following a 47-25 win over Evansburg in the semi-final and an opening 48-28 win over Edson.

It's the second time in two years the girls have won the division title. The final tournament runs the team's record to 50 wins and three losses.

The boys, meanwhile, beat Grande Cache in their opener 75-28 and then Jasper 56-28 in the semi-final. In the championship game at Wildwood School, the boys beat Vanier from Edson 58-25.

Thank you Drayton Valley and area. The best to you.

1984 has proven to be Chrysler's Most Successful Year In their entire History!

On Behalf of Chrysler Canada, Woodland Chrysler would like to Thank the Residents of Drayton Valley and surrounding areas, for your support in helping achieve a milestone in Chrysler's History.

Chrysler Does Not Want To Be the Biggest, Just the Best!

These are several reasons attributed to Chrysler's incredible success story.

1) Years ago Chrysler put a 5 year 80,000 km powertrain protection plan on every domestic car built, and challenged other companies to do the same. Has any one?

2) Produced a mid size, roomy, fuel efficient car, Namely the K-CAR! Which has been the top selling car in Canada for several years!

3) 1984 brought a revolutionary van called the Magic Wagon! No North American built vehicle has struck the market with such success in many, many years!

4) 1984 also brought an aerodynamic fuel injected, Turbo charged Sports car, that out performs and out handles imports, and the conventional rear wheel! drive 8 cylinder sports cars.

5) And Now, in 1985, Chrysler have outdone themselves with a standard 5 year 80,000 km warranty on all Domestic Light duty pickups!

Now! Chrysler says Thankyou Canada, and launches the biggest sale in their history, passing on savings to you the car owners.

From now until April 30th/85 you can save up to

Poloway enjoys people

When you've lived in a community for more than 25 years, you have a lot of opportunity to become a volunteer.

And one person who has taken the time to get involved is Mary Poloway.

Poloway, who is the president of Drayton Valley Presents, has held the position four years. "I've always loved music and other forms of the arts," she said. D.V. Presents brings all types of entertainment to town.

She is also a member of Drayton Valley Oil Wives, a group that "welcomes people to Drayton Valley."

"I like meeting new people and have met many friends through the Oil Wives over the years."

The longtime Drayton Valley resident also taught aerobics classes and had a hand in establishing water gym (exercises) at the old swim-tion Minister Marvin Moore has announced. The contract involves the crushing and stockpiling of 41,000 tonnes of gravel at the Cynthia Pit-Run

Gravel to be stock piled at Cynthia

An $85,280 crushing and stockpiling contract in the Cynthia area is being awarded to Impact Industries (Western) Ltd. of Lacombe, Transpara-ting pool. "Water exercises were a fun thing to start."

Poloway enjoys volunteering. "It gives you a good feeling to give enjoyment to other people."

"When there is a special function, I like to help in some way."

She said she will likely be involved with the Alberta Senior Games in 1986 when they come to Drayton Valley.

Subject: The Canadian Scholarship Trust Plan

This is an informal information session for parents and grand parents of children under ten years, who are interested in their child's future.

C.S.T. FOUNDATION
It's a nonprofit organization, started in 1960. Its Board of Directors consist of leading professionals, educators, religious leaders from every province. They serve without pay.
The Foundation operates the Canadian Scholarship Trust Plan to help parents provide the funds for a post secondary education for their children.
At present there are over 130,000 children enrolled in the plan and the number is growing monthly. Over 16,000 students have received scholarships totalling over 130,000,000.

HOW IT WORKS
When you enroll your child in the plan, you deposit a small amount regularly. When your child reaches college age, you get all your deposits back, less a small administrative charge. Use this to pay for the child's first year of college or university. The Foundation will issue cash scholarships for 2nd, 3rd and 4th years.
You must enroll your child before his or her 10th birthday. It pays to start now because the Younger the child when enrolled, the lower your deposits will be.
ALL DEPOSITS ARE FULLY INSURED!

Groups meet on local taxi/hotel proposal

By Carol Dietrich
Efforts to establish a hotel/taxi program in Drayton Valley are continuing.

Representatives from the Westwind Motor Inn, Valley Cab and the RCMP met with Lance Grocco, general manager of the Black Gold Inn, Feb. 21 to discuss the possibility of setting up the program.

"As with everything, my immediate thought was 'Where is the financing coming from?'," said Cpl. Tom Turner.

"I envision it as a self-supporting thing, once it gets going," said Grocco.

"The program's success depends on how well people get behind it," Turner added.

"Impaired are up from last year," he said. "We have been bringing the numbers down in the last few years and now we are at a point where we need to do something else to bring them down further."

"At first, we'll need to put a number of posters, tentcards and a piggybank (for donations) inside each drinking establishment," Turner said.

"The staffs would have to be sold on the program," he said, "and they could encourage patrons to use it."

"I believe this program can work," Grocco said. "How effective it will be in Drayton Valley is hard to say."

"But, if we have it, we are taking the offensive." And people over .08 who drive away can't come back and try to sue us when they have an accident, because they didn't use our program, Grocco added.

"I don't believe Drayton Valley has a greater drinking and driving problem than anywhere else," the Black Gold manager said.

"We're not leading the province," said Turner, "but the problem is here."

The possibility of non-drivers abusing the program was brought up. But it was also mentioned that people who weren't driving would not be eligible to use it.

"You'll always have people who will take advantage if they have a chance," said Kevin Love, general manager of the Westwind Motor Inn.

The meeting broke up with the intent to meet again Feb. 28 with quoted prices on posters, tentcards and donation banks.

The less-than-hoped-for turnout of drinking establishments did not seem to dampen the group's interest in setting up the program.

Grocco does not plan to contact those who didn't show up. "I'm not going to pursue them any further. They have the information and if they are interested they can contact me."

He said he neglected to contact the legion, but planned to invite them to participate.

Powerhouse popular

Though winter registrations are down slightly from last year, a good number of people have decided to make use of the Powerhouse Further Education Council's non-credit courses.

"We have about 200 registrations this time, with 17 courses running," said co-ordinator Cathy Marshall.

"And two courses, first aid and small engine repair, are planned to start in April so there is lots of time to register yet."

"One of the most popular courses was mukluk making," she said. "We had to run an extra session because 24 people signed up."

Other sought after courses included beginner photography, inroduction to computers, first aid and typing.

"We also had a good enrollment in 'English as a second language,'" Marshall added.

The spring schedule of programs is planned to begin in April and people with course suggestions are invited to call.

"We are getting a good response from people."

"They are phoning in and whenever they call, I make a note of their ideas (or suggestions). And I'll take the ideas to our programming committee," she said.

"We also invite people who are qualified to teach a course to call in and we'll try to set something up."

Lodge receives funds

Residents at Winfield's West Pine Lodge are $10,000 closer to building an addition to their senior citizen's lodge following a grant from the Alberta Recreation, Parks and Wildlife Foundation Friday.

The seniors, who've raised another $41,000 from dances, bazaars and various sales and matching grants from the province, are planning a new dining area for the nine-year-old building which will allow the present facility to become a community recreation area.

In a brief ceremony Friday, foundation executive director Chuck Moser presented the lodge's 28 seniors with a $10,000 cheque, which completes a required private funding scheme set up by the Alberta Housing Corporation (AHC).

According to Drayton Valley MLA Shirley Cripps, who attended the cheque-passing, AHC will build the addition and absorb any cost overruns.

The residents were "quite enthused" about the project and raising money for it, West Pine Oldtimers Association secretary Jean Barke said.

"Like you say, $50,000 is a lot of money but they worked hard, had dances, bingos and bazaars to raise the money on their own."

"About halfway through they didn't think it would come true because of the money, but now they're quite thrilled about it."

Barke added the lodge's recreation area will be used "at least 50 per cent of the time by anyone in the community" who wants to hold special events.

The fund-raising began about 18 months ago and with the money now in place, construction is expected to go ahead this spring.

Mayhew challenges

Drayton Valley's economic development committee isn't even a week old and they've already been given a challenge.

Council gave their blessing to the formation of the committee last Thursday after receiving a 17-page presentation from Tom McGee.

Mayor Bob Mayhew issued a challenge to McGee and his committee when he said, "If you can reduce the number of people going into the big cities, that would be a big step."

The mayor also had some words of caution for the new committee.

"Don't go looking for business that is already struggling in Drayton Valley," the mayor said.

McGee, chairman of the three-member committee that is expected to include representation from the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce says, "The first step is to take stock of what we have in Drayton Valley and see what we can do to help."

Budget approved

Taber town council has approved in principle a five-year capital budget that totals close to $15 million. The five-year budget allows the southern Alberta town to plan for future projects.

Crackdown on snowmobiles

The RCMP at Spruce Grove are cracking down on people operating snowmobiles within town limits. RCMP members will be riding snowmobiles themselves in an effort to chase down those who are breaking the law.

Snowmobile capital

Whitecourt may soon be known as the snowmobile capital of Alberta. The Trailblazers Snowmobile Club is after town council to erect signs along the highway leading into Whitecourt, telling travellers about 55 miles of groomed trails in the area.

Sunday bylaw tested

A trial date has been set for June 24 for four Red Deer stores charged with violating the city's Sunday closing bylaw.

Arts grant

A $200,000 federal government grant has been approved to help finance construction of a new performing arts centre in Stettler. Construction on the arts centre is expected to begin next month.

Tax bill up $32

The local tax bill for the average Red Deer homeowner will increase by $31.50 over 1984. Earlier this month the City of Red Deer increased municipal property taxes 2.3 per cent.

Food bank goes full time

A constant demand for food for families of unemployed people has forced the Rocky Mountain House food bank into a year-round service. Since Christmas, the food bank has handed out five to six hampers per week.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO CLOSE PORTION OF HIGHWAYS AS WINTER DISCLOSED

Pursuant to the authority of the County Council and as provided in the Municipal Government Act, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN of the intention of Council to pass a By-law to close:

All those portions of highway in the County of Parkland No. 31 in the Province of Alberta of record in the Land Titles Office for the North Alberta Land Registration District described as follows:

All those portions of statutory road allowances on the west boundaries of the North West Quarter of Section Twenty Nine (29) and the North West Quarter of Section Thirty One (31) all in Township Fifty One (51), Range Six (6) West of the Fifth Meridian.

All those portions of statutory road allowances on the west boundaries of Section Thirty Two (32) and Section Thirty Three (33) all in Township Fifty One (51), Range Six (6) West of the Fifth Meridian.

All those portions of statutory road allowances on the west boundaries of Sections Five (5), Six (6), Seven (7) and Eight (8) all in Township Fifty Two (52), Range Six (6) West of the Fifth Meridian.

All those portions of statutory road allowances on the south boundaries of Section Five (5) and Section Six (6) all in Township Fifty Two (52), Range Six (6) West of the Fifth Meridian.

Reserving Thereafter All Mines and Minerals

Plan showing the location of the said highway may be inspected on information obtained in the County of Parkland Office during regular office hours, Monday to Friday, until 4:30 o'clock p.m., Friday the 15th day of March, 1985.

Any person who claims that his land will be injuriously affected by the passing of the said By-law and petitions to be heard is requested to file his claim with the Municipal Secretary, County of Parkland No. 31, Stony Plain, Alberta by not later than 4:30 o'clock p.m. on Friday the 15th day of March, 1985.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE THAT at its meeting to be held in the Council Chambers at Stony Plain, Alberta at 11:00 o'clock a.m. on Thursday the 21st day of March, 1985 or as soon thereafter as the matter can be conveniently dealt with the Council will afford an opportunity to be heard to any person by himself or his agent who claims that his land will be injuriously affected by the passing of the said By-law who has petitioned to be heard as aforesaid and who appears at the said meeting.

In case the meeting does not take place on the 21st day of March, 1985 sign at the first meeting of Council to be held subsequently thereafter, the Council will afford any person by himself or his agent who has petitioned to be heard as aforesaid an opportunity to be heard at the said subsequent meeting.

Dated at Stony Plain, Alberta this 18th day of February, 1985

Sekura on board

Wendal Sekura of Sekura Auctions in Drayton Valley has been elected to a director's position on the Auctioneers' Association of Alberta.

Maurice Rivard of Bonnyville, John Laley of Barrhead, Terry Urlichuk from Willingdon and Calgary's David Galvin join Sekura as directors.

Ron Sim from the Burnt Lake Livestock in Red Deer was elected president and Frank Hall of Calgary is the vice-president.

Charter member Archie Boyce of Calgary and long-time member Miller Patterson of Dawson Creek, B.C., both 85, with more than 50 years each in the auction business, were honored at the auctioneers' recent 50th annual convention in Lethbridge.

Woolsey loses

A rare 'flip of the coin' decided the top position in the Evergreen Tourist Association on Saturday.

Four rounds of balloting resulted in a tie between Piet Steen of Edson and Drayton Valley's Dennis Woolsey for the position of president.

The flip of the coin returned Steen to his third term as head of the tourist association with Woolsey settling for first vice-president.

Eris Gruhn of Seba Beach was elected second vice-president with Joe Folk of Edson serving as third vice-president.

The executive will meet March 6 in Edmonton to discuss plans for the upcoming season. Woolsey, who just completed a structural report to the association, sees that as a major priority for the group.

Hoshowski defeats Carson, wins bonspiel

By LeOpal Larmson

Congratulations to Russell and Debbie (nee Parker) Seely on the birth of a baby boy Feb. 11 in the Rimbey hospital. He weighed 9 lbs. 3 oz. and was named Wesley Roy. He is a grandson for Roy Parker and Ivy and J.L. Seely. Proud great grandparents are Gladys Rivers and Gene and Ethel Seely.

The Buck Lake Curling Club held their mixed-bonspiel Feb. 12-17 with 24 rinks participating. The Hoshowski rink took the grand challenge by defeating the Dennis Carson rink in the final game.

Second event honors went to the Wayne Brus foursome with the Wayne Hunt rink placing second.

Klondike Days start Friday

Wildwood Elks Lodge will be sponsoring the 22nd Klondike Days in Wildwood Community Hall on Friday, March 1 and Saturday, March 2.

The two-day event will be similar to K-Days of other years. Friday, March 1 will be Family Night. Many different games of chance will be featured for both adults and kids. Doors will open at 7 p.m. and it is to your advantage to come early since draws for prizes will be made on admission tickets every 15 minutes.

The price of admission for Friday night is only $1. This is unchanged for 22 years! Besides the ongoing draws during the evening, some lucky boy or girl will win a bicycle at midnight. Admission ticket stubs will be used for the bike draw.

Nail driving and log sawing contests will be held for men and women. This year the junior section competitions will be much more extensive.

Six trophies will be awarded to the midgets category which will be those kids who are age 12 or under on the day of competitions. Another six trophies will be awarded for the junior category competitors who must be age 13 to 15 on the day of competition. Both groups will compete in nail driving and log sawing. A total of 28 trophies will be awarded in the two-day event.

Ladies of the Royal Purple will be sponsoring a bingo in the Community Hall Annex on Friday night. The value of the prizes will be determined by the number of players participating in each game.

Saturday night K-Days will be for adults only. Doors open for refreshments at 7 p.m. Supper is at 7:30 p.m.

The dancing and sourdough competitions will follow supper. There will be log sawing for men,

Buck Lake News

Third event winner was the Frank Rondeel rink and the Dale Nestagard team placed second.

Congratulations to Jere Geiger who won the $100 draw.

Perry Larsson enjoy six days skiing in the Fernie, B.C. area.

Congratulations to Calman and Anita (nee Branch) Polutrak of Beaumont on the birth of a baby boy born Feb. 14 in the Misericordia hospital.

Women and mixed teams. Also, nail driving for men and women.

There will only be 200 tickets sold for Saturday night. Admission price is $10 per person for the supper and dance. Tickets must be purchased in advance. They are available at Jim's T.V. (phone 325-3885) or Wildwood Confectionary (phone 325-3834). Pick your tickets up early to avoid disappointment.

Mark these dates on your calendar: Wildwood K-Days March 1 and 2!

Wildwood Elks Lodge

He weighed 7 lbs. 2 oz. and was named Nathan Calman. His proud grandparents are John and Olga Adams of Summerland and Maggie and Calman Polutrak of Edmonton.

The next bingo will be March 6 when the jackpot will be worth $65 if won in 68 numbers or less.

The 1985 graduating class sponsored a pancake supper at the Alder Flats Hall Feb. 19. It was very successful.

Lila and James McLeod and Schylur Durant from Vernon, B.C. were visiting in the area recently. They visited with Calvin and Joan at Entwistle. Irene Scott of Drayton Valley, George and Barb McLeod, Pat and Geneva Patten, Babe and Alois Rainer, and Pat and Gordon Borle. Schylur's daughter Sharon and John Gilson of Edmonton came out to see them.

IT'D BE CRIMINAL TO HAVE TO PAY MORE THAN $8224 FOR A KING CAB.

Word on the street has it that the Nissan King Cab, at a suggested retail price, including freight, of $8224 is the lowest priced king cab compact truck in Canada. Over $700 lower than GM. Over $1200 lower than Toyota. And Ford and Chrysler don't even have one.

Better move fast to a Nissan dealer because the $8224 King Cabs are movin' real fast.

Newcomer avid sports spectator, musician

There's a new face behind the service counter at Woodland Chrysler in Drayton Valley.

Mike Myers, a native of Georgetown, Prince Edward Island, is Woodland's new service manager.

A desire for a 'change in lifestyle' was the major factor in Myers' decision to accept the job in Drayton Valley.

For the past two years he worked at Londonderry Plymouth Chrysler in Edmonton for Elmer Lastiwka, a former owner of Woodland Chrysler.

People

Myers' dealership experience dates back to 1977 in his native P.E.I. When the business Myers was working for closed, a decision was made to move west.

"The West was booming, and from my past experience I knew Calgary, which influenced our decision," Myers recalls.

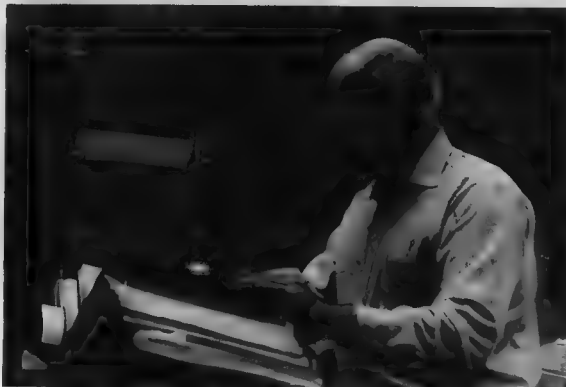

In between his start in P.E.I. and his present position at Woodland Chrysler, Myers spent some time in Edmonton, Carstairs and Calgary.

Prior to joining the dealership industry, Myers spent 25 years in the military, specializing in the mechanical field.

Mike and Odette Myers have four children: one boy stationed in Germany with the military and three daughters; two living in Edmonton and the other in Medicine Hat.

The Drayton Valley newcomer is an avid sports spectator with hockey being his first love. He took in many Oiler games while living in Edmonton and is one of their big fans. He follows both professional and amateur hockey after a career of his own during his years in the military.

Myers is also a musician, playing many instruments. He's presently looking at joining a band and having his membership in the Carstairs Royal Canadian Legion transferred to Drayton Valley.

About 70 brownies, guides and pathfinders attended a thinking seminar Friday to commemorate 75 years of guiding in Canada.

Guides celebrate birthday

In celebration of 75 years of guiding in Canada, local brownies, guides and pathfinders gathered for a thinking seminar Friday at the Scout Hall.

The girls, age 8 to 16, performed skits and songs related to their guide programs for about 60 parents and friends crowded into the hall.

With a huge, cardboard layer cake, the guides paid tribute to Lord Baden-Powell and his wife, Olave Lady Baden-Powell who were instrumental in the creation of scouts and guides on a world-wide basis.

Today, more than 275,000 women and girls participate in guide programs across Canada and more than 8.5 million throughout the world.

The aim of the guiding program is to provide opportunities designed to help girls become responsible, resourceful and happy members of society and is achieved through community service and awareness.

Credit Unions: 9 million members strong.

One out of every four Albertans. Credit Unions have over 500,000 members in Alberta. They're one out of every four people in the province. Simple, isn't it?

Don't be.

There are over 9 million Canadians who are members of the Credit Union and Co-op Association. It's a family that starts with your local Credit Union.

Membership is the foundation.

Membership is the underlying foundation of your Credit Union. It's what makes it different from any other financial institution. The members own, direct and control their Credit Union. That means economic benefits for you, your community and Alberta.

Working together.

There are over 3,200 Credit Unions and Co-ops throughout Canada. The strength of this chain lies with the strong links between the provincial and national organizations which "pool" the resources of all Credit Unions to bring members the best in financial services. In this way, Credit Unions of every size can offer you the strength and security you need.

A proud heritage since 1937.

Credit Unions have been part of Alberta for 58 years. In that time they have provided a number of exceptional financial services and helped many families get established. They've stood by Alberta and helped it grow. In 1977, the Credit Union called it commitment. Today, they still do.

Local taxes increase $41

The cost of the new Park Valley indoor swimming pool and improvements to the water system will show up on Drayton Valley tax notices shortly.

Town manager Manny Deol says there will be no municipal mill rate this year, but the increases that Drayton Valley residents will see will be the result of an earlier plebiscite on the new pool and improvements to the water system.

A residence, with an assessment of $50,000 will see an increase of $41 on their tax role this year. This figure includes $18.50 for the pool and $22.50 for the water system.

A commercial assessment of $200,000 will see $92 go to the water system and $74 to the pool.

Lioness Club sponsoring speakers

To get their club on a firm footing and become aware of the needs in the community, the Drayton Valley Lioness Club is bringing in a number of guest speakers.

"We want to be better informed so we can best put our money to use," said president Fern Kinniburgh.

They have had speakers from social services and the senior citizens. In the immediate future representatives from the hospital and the RCMP are expected to speak, she said.

"We want to get more speakers. (So far) the speakers were very enlightening."

"I thought I had a handle on the seniors' needs but found out I didn't have a clue," Kinniburgh said.

"After we hear the speakers, we'll decide where the money from our first project (a raffle at the Evergreen Rodeo) will go."

"Any money taken from the public is put back into the community."

Anyone wanting to come to speak to the club is welcome, she added.

"People can write to us at Box 1625."

This is the only way we can find out what people need, she said.

Parkland County to purchase new graders

The county will spend $498,500 to purchase three new graders, council has decided.

A tender for Cat 140 G graders was chosen by a 4-3 vote over tenders of $421,050 for Champion-740 units and $399,031 for 770 A John Deere graders.

Councillor Ron Pollock said lower-priced equipment has "fooled" council in the past.

A $20,000 per unit saving in purchase prices can be quickly lost during seven or eight years of expensive parts and service costs.

Cat graders have a proven track record, he said. They are cheaper to operate and are "better for us when we re-sell."

People are willing to spend dollars at auction for the Cat name whereas they may be more hesitant when it comes to other used graders.

Pollock said he would like to try John Deere graders but was not convinced the capability of the units tendered was necessary for the work required of them in the county.

Operators need to be familiar with machines they are using, he said. To inject an unfamiliar Aerobic classes have once again started and there is still room for a few more participants. Anyone interested call Therese Moman at 542-4593.

It is good to see Rudolph Dusterhoff home and recuperating after his stay in the University Hospital in Edmonton and the Drayton Valley hospital.

Jalna and Lionel Ryrrie and family enjoyed a weekend visit from his brother Wallace and wife Dee from Claresholm.

A meeting was held at the Whitby Community Hall Jan. 23 and the election of officers took place. The following were re-elected to their positions: president, Joe Kelly; treasurer, Sheila Ochsen; secretary, Jalna Ryrrie.

A work bees was planned and is in process to do some painting and general sprucing up of the hall. Plans were made for the Valentine supper and dance.

machine into a fleet of graders might not be proper.

Councillor Henry Rondeau disagreed with Pollock's comments. He said council had to consider it was spending taxpayers' money when it approved tenders.

The difference in purchase price between the three grader tenders submitted was too great to support the highest one.

Rondeau said he supported the purchase of John Deere because of the saving of close to $100,000 for three machines.

He agreed with Councillor George Sewell who said he couldn't pick out long-range operational and maintenance savings from the county's records of using Cat.

Ed Webber, public works maintenance manager, said the records referred to by Sewell and Rondeau cover four years.

"Hopefully, you wouldn't have that much difference in machines during that time," he said.

Reeve Maurice McCullagh and Councillors Pollock, Carl Baron and Mark Chechotko supported the purchase of Cat graders.

Councillors Sewell, Rondeau and Ken Furr were opposed.

A motion by Chechotko to dispose of three used graders at auction was passed.

Search on for outstanding young farmer

The search is on for the 1985 OUTSTANDING YOUNG FARMER OF ALBERTA, and he or she may be residing in your community.

The Outstanding Young Farmer program is designed to bring about a better understanding of the problems and achievements of the farmers in your area, to the urban population as well as recognize each individual for their endeavors.

The magnitude of the importance of the agricultural industry was stressed by Lonnie MacLaren, chairman of the Alberta-Northwest Region Jaycees (Junior Chamber of Commerce) Outstanding Young Farmer Committee, in announcing the start of this year's program and recognizing event. The young farmer selected must be between the ages of 18 to 39 inclusive, and derive at least two-thirds of his income from farming. He will be selected locally and judged in provincial competition on his progress since entering agriculture, extent of soils, water and energy conservation practices, crop and livestock production history, and their contribution to the well being of the community, province and nation.

The deadline for submissions of nominations in Alberta is May 1, 1985 and farm organizations, agricultural-related service companies, and individual citizens are encouraged to promote some of the outstanding farmers they know of in their areas.

This is the sixth year the Canada Jaycees, primarily a leadership training organization, have operated the National Outstanding Young Farmer Program in conjunction with the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede. National sponsors of the Outstanding Young Farmer Program are: the Bank of Montreal, John Deere Ltd., and Hoechst Canada Inc.

Alberta at the National Outstanding Young Farmer banquet being held in late October in Calgary. Previous Alberta and national honorees of the program include:

1984: Jerry Kubik Jr. (Wrentham)
1983: Loren Stewart (Strathmore)
1982: Gordon Bussey (Aldridge)
1981: Dwight Woody (Coronation)
1980: Kenneth Storch (Hanna)

Nomination forms are available from either the regional chairman, any of the national sponsors above, or your local Jaycee unit. Regional chairman is Len MacLaren, Box 277, Bentley, AB, T0C 0J0, 748-2474.

Meals-on-wheels for active lifestyles

By Jo-Anne Hall
District Home Economist
Sangudo

Busy, active lifestyles are common among Canadians as they juggle the demands of work, family, friends and fitness activities. This often leaves them with little time in the kitchen to prepare meals.

The demand for meals-on-wheels has had a dramatic effect on the food industry. A greater variety of foods with built-in convenience is appearing on supermarket shelves and new equipment with time saving features is finding its way into our kitchens. Microwave ovens, toaster ovens, slow cookers, pressure cookers and food processors all help in the preparation of meals in minutes.

According to the red meat industry, old family favorites such as beef, pork, lamb and veal can be the focus of meals in minutes. Plus, they provide significant amounts of the many nutrients needed by the body for good health. Here are some tips for nutritious meaty meals in minutes.

- Broil or barbecue a steak or chop.
- Cut meat in smaller pieces for shorter cooking times, such as cubes for kabobs and strips for stir-fry.
- For quick-cooking, shape ground meat into single serving dishes such as patties, individual meat loaves or meat balls. Combine a variety of ground meats for a new flavor sensation.
- Prepare meat casseroles and stews on the weekend and freeze them. They keep well for up to three months at -18°C. Reheat them in the oven or in the microwave oven.
- Stock up on meat pies or make your own, they are great to have in the freezer. Meat pies keep well for up to two months at -18°C. Cook them in the conventional oven or toaster oven.
- Use the automatic oven timer or use the slow cooker to have a roast ready when you are. Although a roast may take longer to cook, it requires little preparation and provides cooked meat for future meals in minutes. Why not cook a roast on the weekend?

Tasty meals in minutes are a bonus to families-on-the-go.

Alberta dentist society to meet locally

The board of directors of the Denturist Society of Alberta will hold meetings in Leduc and Breton March 1.

The March 1 meetings result from board policy to hold some of its meetings in Alberta's smaller cities and towns rather than only in Edmonton and Calgary. Such regional meetings provide the opportunity for local denturists to better participate in society affairs. Leduc denturists Doug Evans, Jim Krull and Lori Ross; Wetaskiwin denturist Danny Jones and Breton denturists Carmen Guenther and Gerhard Guenther are expected to attend with the board.

Denturists provide denture services direct to the public. They take the impressions, construct the dentures and fit them in the patient. The efficiency and accuracy of conducting the complete process usually results in lower costs and higher satisfaction to the patient.

After a luncheon meeting at the Leduc Inn, the Denturist Society board will travel to Mr. and Mrs. Guenther's denture clinic near Breton to continue their business agenda.

One of the topics to be discussed will be progress on plans for 26th anniversary celebrations. Nineteen eighty-six is the 26th anniversary of legislated denturism in North America as represented by the 1961 Alberta Dental Mechanics Act. Mr. Guenther is chairman of the anniversary committee.

Past year not the best for local farmers

For Drayton Valley and area farmers, 1984 was not a particularly good year, local District Agriculturist Doug Walkey says.

"I don't think you can say it was a good year! It was distinctly below average and I think farm incomes will be down. I don't think you want to go back and say it was a good year," Walkey said Monday.

In his "state-of-the-district" address to the fourth annual agriculture banquet Saturday, Walkey released year-end figures for the Alberta Agriculture office for inquiries and courses and said Monday the figures were lower than the previous year.

Walkey blamed the poor year on the drought explaining the type of farming in the area is not conducive to dry weather. The hail storm last June also took its toll on area crops.

In total, the local office received 1,742 different telephone inquiries and made 2,683 of its own. The agriculturist made 197 actual farm calls and offered through the local Alberta Agriculture office 71 courses to more than 1,500 people.

"(The figures) are slightly lower than last year," Walkey said, explaining the amount of inquiries usually depend on the kind and amount of government assistance programs being offered.

Inquiries this year should increase with the initiation of the Freight Subsidy Program, he said.

"We've been getting a number of calls a day on the program for the last several months," he said. "We finally got the (application) forms in and they're starting to disappear very quickly."

While the farming may not have been overly successful, the annual agriculture banquet at Rocky Rapids Community Hall was.

Now in its fourth year, the annual Cattle Baron's Ball attracted 161 people - 40 more than in 1984 and more than double its first attempt in 1981 - to Rocky Rapids Community Hall.

"I guess you could call that successful," Walkey said of the increased turnout.

Town will not pay interest

The Town of Drayton Valley has decided not to pay interest on water meter rentals.

Their decision comes after almost two months of researching the issue, originally raised by Councillor Tom McGee, who had been approached by a citizen for some sort of action. Council made the decision after receiving a letter of clarification from Welsh & Company, barristers and solicitors.

The letter pointed out that there didn't appear to be anything in the provincial legislation requiring the municipality to pay interest on funds held by the town during the period of time that the consumer uses the meter for their water connection.

It was also pointed out that a number of municipalities across the province provide interest, but they were reconsidering their position because of the extra cost involved.

Council unhappy with QCTV

Town council in Drayton Valley is unhappy with QCTV.

Council plan to write QCTV expressing their concerns over the coverage of local happenings.

Mayor Bob Mayhew says, "My patience with QCTV is getting short. They have misused several key happenings in the community, including the recent opening of the Park Valley indoor swimming pool."

The town also plans to send a copy of the letter to the CRTC, complaining that there is a lack of community programs on QCTV, which is contrary to the channel's original commitment to the town and area.

SHOP LOCALLY!

The money you spend helps your community grow & prosper

A part of everything you spend in local stores goes to make your town a better place to live for you and your family. Merchants pay taxes, make charitable contributions and support local institutions. The merchants are your neighbors and they want to work with you to improve and support the good life in your community. You'll be helping your neighbors and yourself.

When you shop locally, everyone benefits. It's more convenient so you save gas and time. You get friendly, knowledgeable service because local merchants "know" you and appreciate your business. They depend on you to keep their stores going strong. And some of what you spend goes back into the community in the form of taxes and charitable contributions paid by the merchants.

Remember...

Your money buys more when you shop at a local store. It's good for you, good for us, good for the community.

Parents favor French education for youths

Members of the parents' association met with the St. Anthony school board at Feb. 21 meeting.

The issue at hand was a survey the school's association undertook, asking parents if they wanted French education for children in Grades 1-6.

Results were as follows, of the replies they received, 61 per cent said 'yes' and 39 per cent said 'no' to French for Grades 1, 2 and 3. And 80 per cent were in favor of French for Grades 4 and 5 and 20 per cent against it.

"We sent out 215 surveys and had 46 returned," said association chairman Muriel Hartley.

"The group that replied 'yes' thought it was important to have a second language at a lower age level.

"And those who said 'no' felt this is a multicultural country and they worried about what would have to be taken out of the curriculum."

To make it worthwhile, we should have three periods of French a week, said superintendent Eugene Miller.

"It is a reality that because we are a Catholic school that we don't have the time (because of religious instruction).

"So where do we take the time from?" Parents didn't want the time taken from language arts, especially phonics at the lower grades, Hartley added.

It was decided that letters be sent to parents inviting them to the March 21 annual meeting. Parents will have an opportunity to discuss curriculum concerns as well as any other they may have.

Teacher Wayne Tournour brought up the possibility of a European trip to the board. "We're looking at an 11-night, 13-day trip that would cost about $1800 per student, he said.

"I would like to take this year's Grade 8 and 9 class in the spring of 1986."

The board encouraged Tournour to continue looking into the trip and to report back with further details.

Principal Ron Williams reported to the board on the recent presentation from the Edmonton sexual assault centre.

A representative came promoting a kit teachers would use to sensitize children to the possibility of sexual assault.

"I wouldn't want someone who was not well-trained to teach the information," Williams said.

He recommended against using the kit because "more training than the few hours suggested would be necessary."

Maciborsky wins Red Deer oilmens

By Bernice Johnson
JMS-JMS

A bridal shower was held for Amy Maclean and Todd Krysta at the legion hall Feb. 3. Bridesmaids Brenda Hardman, Janet Miller, and Audra Melin were on hand to assist the bride while Peggy Miller did the recording of the gifts.

Hosting the shower were Connie Maclean, Lois Robinson, Shirley Shanks, Joyce Hayduk, Jean Melin, Lorraine Moore, Marie Bourk and Helen McRae.

The wedding took place Feb. 23 in Drayton Valley with Pastor Mark Johnson officiating.

The Mighty Mites played hockey in Rimby Feb. 9 and were defeated 11-1. Chad Kellgren made the lone goal.

The Mites played at Winfield on the same day, and trounced Winfield 7-1. Scoring for Alder Flats were Cordell Skinner (3), Travis Moody (2) and Carl Hansen (2).

Dennis Maciborsky, curling with the Wild Card rink, skipped by Bruce Clemmer, won the third event in the Oilmen's bonspiel in Red Deer.

We were pleased to win the second event in the Breton bonspiel. Curling third was Gladys Maciborsky, Debbie Johnson second and Denise Murray lead. Dawne Leach curled third for Liz Long and won second in the first event.

Al Clemmer skipped the Paul Rainer rink in the Buck Lake open and won second in the third event. Ron Krysta and Harold Johnson were the other two team members.

Bob Hansen and Jamie Capanluk have home for days off from their job, north of Slave Lake.

"1985 could be better than last year"

Substantial drilling activity planned

By Carol Dietrich

A strengthened economy and increased optimism in a new government are two factors that will see six out of eight oil companies equal or increase last year's drilling activity in the Drayton Valley area in 1985.

"At this time, we're pretty active with in-field drilling," said Wayne Heth, local district supervisor for Amoco Canada Petroleum Company Ltd.

"We're planning to drill 30 new wells over the next year, compared to five last year."

The drilling will be done in the Pembina and Carrot Creek fields.

"We're doing this work at this time on the hope of the competency of the new government," he said.

"If the wells are successful and the fiscal policies of the government are all positive, there is no reason why we won't continue a very aggressive drilling program."

Amoco does not plan to hire any more workers, Heth said. "We were staffed awhile ago."

Dome Petroleum Ltd. will sustain their local drilling activity from last year, said Neil Samis, district engineer.

"Because of the economic climate we will be maintaining minimum drilling and we won't be hiring."

Last year the company drilled 15 to 25 wells in the Drayton Valley area. "We drill in the Brazeau area and near Winfield," Samis said.

About nine wells last year's total are planned for Norcen Energy Resources Ltd. this year, said Wayne Newhouse, vice-president production. Drilling is planned for the west Pembina and Buck Lake areas, he added.

"There could be more in west Pembina depending on our success." But there are no current plans to hire field staff, he added.

The current disagreement between the provincial and federal governments has caused real problems, Newhouse said.

"Given that matters could be resolved, things would definitely pick up."

Texaco Canada Resources Ltd. drilled between 10 and 12 wells in the Cynthia - Carrot Creek areas last year, said John Spaspen, drilling superintendent.

"We could increase our activity from 1984 depending on the government. But I don't expect that we will."

"And I don't anticipate hiring any new staff," he said.

Eso Resources Canada Ltd. will continue their in-field drilling program in 1985, said Don Kallis, senior operations foreman.

"We drilled 41 wells in the Pembina field last year and plan to drill 25 this year," he said.

Between 10 and 15 are planned for the Peco and Brazeau fields as well.

"And these do not include exploration drilling," Kallis added.

"We anticipate that 1985 will be a reasonably good year."

And though the company increased staff last year, whether or not they will this year depends on how successfully the drilling goes, he said.

Canadian Occidental Petroleum Ltd. expects a substantial increase in drilling activity from last year's 10 wells, said Alan Hartley, operations superintendent.

The majority of drilling is done in the Pembina field, he added.

"We're looking at several deeper tests for this area."

"It looks like if everything goes ahead, this year will be better than last year."

But no hiring is planned, he said.

"At the moment we don't plan any drilling for the immediate area," said Wayne Carey, area superintendent for Canadian Reserve Oil and Gas Ltd.

"Right now we are in the midst of a merger with Texaco," he added.

"We have budgeted for four to six wells in the Pembina and Carrot Creek fields, but it is difficult to say if they will go ahead."

"Overall I think the industry is going to see an activity level a little higher than last year."

The company probably won't be hiring new people, he said.

"No drilling is scheduled for the Drayton Valley area," said Dwight Campell, production superintendent for Mobil Oil Canada Ltd.

"It's been 10 to 15 years since we've drilled to any great extent in this area, though we have recently farmed out land to Ander."

"We don't have a lot of land holdings to explore locally."

Rig work has more than its share of hazardous jobs.

From this perspective, it's obvious that it's a looney way down to the ground.

Les Tucker family enjoys colorful history

By Donna Haskedal

Except for a three-and-a-half-year stint in the army, Leslie Tucker has spent all but the first 10 months of his life on the land his father homesteaded in 1911.

Les was born in Entwistle and was 10 months old when the family moved to the homestead which now, except for 20 acres, is part of the Town of Drayton Valley.

His father came from St. Catharines, Ont. where he had graduated from college. But despite his education he chose to live the life of adventure. In 1904 he joined the gold rush at Dawson City in the Yukon. He left there in 1906 and came to work in the Evansburg coal mine. His name can be found in a history book in the Dawson City Archives Museum.

Construction of a dam on the North Saskatchewan River south of Drayton Valley (then known as Power House) and a proposed railway drew many settlers to the area. Mr. Tucker filed on a homestead and continued to work in the mines.

Les's mother was a young widow with three children. After losing her husband she left England with her parents and came to live at Entwistle where they had relatives working in the mines as well. Here she met and married Les's father. They continued to live in Entwistle for a few years.

The night before Les was born his mother's brother Leslie was killed in a mining accident. Les was named after this uncle.

After moving to the homestead Mr. Tucker worked in the mines during winter and on the land in the summer until about 1934. The dam was never completed so when hope for this work failed, along with the dream of a railway, many people left. "When the railway didn't come in they sat out here, 30 miles from nowhere," he says.

But Les's parents stuck it out. His father farmed with oxen. While working the fields many years later Les found an old oxen shoe that had been lost many years earlier.

Les and his brothers and sisters went to school in Drayton Valley. He says the roads back then were the big thing. If you went to Entwistle you didn't know if you would get back.

One time they went there for a ball tournament, picking up some friends along the way. That night a rain started and kept up all night. The next day they got as far as their friend's farm a few miles west of Tucker's and decided to leave their Model T. The rest of the team walked home in bare feet.

Before people had cars these trips were made with horses. The Tuckers only visited their relatives in Entwistle about twice a year as the trip with horses took many hours.

"There were no luxuries. Students amused themselves with whatever was at hand. 'We didn't even have a ball or bat,' said Les.

One day the teacher brought them a surprise — a tennis ball. But when the kids were playing 'anti-over' that same day, the ball fell down the chimney and were unable to retrieve it. During classes there was a loud 'pop' from the chimney. "There goes your ball," said the teacher.

About the only fruit available in the Drayton Valley stores were dried apples and prunes. So wild berries were not only an important part of their diet, but berry-picking was a family outing in the summer. They picked raspberries and Saskatoons along the river, but for blueberries and cranberries they went to Bear Lake and Easyford.

Six to eight families would get together with teams of horses and wagons. They would spend a week picking berries and camping. "Strawberries were also plentiful and it wasn't unusual for people to can 50 quarts," said Les.

When Les returned from the army he married Louise Lalnchbury in 1943.

Louise was born about 20 miles from Hughenden in eastern Alberta. Her father was a farmer, but drought had made farming almost impossible. In 1938 he moved his family west and rented a farm just south of Drayton Valley.

Her parents, most of the seven children, their horses and household goods came in April. Louise and her eldest sister stayed behind to look after the cattle until the grass around Drayton Valley and along the roadsides became green.

Louise (almost 17), her father and sister left their old home on the first of June to drive their herd of cattle to Drayton Valley, a distance of 940 kilometers. Louise and her father rode in the car while her sister rode her horse. Sometimes Louise would walk for a change as they didn't move along very fast.

The trip took the most of June. They stopped to milk the eight cows every night as well as morning. They set a cream separator on the running board of the car and sold the cream at creameries along the way. The cows had calves and these they fed from pails.

They followed the ditches along the roads and camped near rivers at night. It showered every day Louise said, but because of the dry weather they had experienced for so long, this too was a nice change.

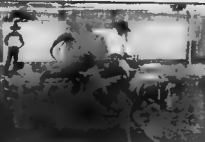

"When we got to this country I thought, 'This is great. All that grass and clover along the sides of the road. And every yard you went by had a great big wood pile,'" Louise said.

Permit expected this week

Local daycare given construction go-ahead

The D.V. Happy Daycare has been given the go-ahead on its proposed daycare in Drayton Valley after concerns about the operation's safety were cleared up.

According to the daycare's owner, Parviz Lookmanjee, the town's municipal planning commission turned down the proposal after Mayor Bob Mayhew raised concern about the location — along 50 Avenue across from the Elks Hall — and children running into traffic.

Lookmanjee has since met with commission members and explained the daycare's procedure, the regulations governing the operation and that "the children are never left unsupervised."

Currently, the daycare is run out of Lookman-jee's home just southwest of the town limits.

Lookmanjee said she expects a development permit to be approved sometime this week for the $180,000 proposal.

The daycare will offer both its daycare programs as well as its daycare services and, for the first time, offer daycare for infants, she said.

Breton Elks, New Moose Hill Community Club aid scouts

By Shelli Carson

Harold's Steam Cleaning & Vacuum Service captured the 'A' event championship at the recent 18th Annual Breton Oilmen's bonspiel.

Larry Fink placed second in the first event followed by Gillis Construction and Hostyn Drilling.

Tri Enter Tech won the 'B' event followed by Parkland Operations, James Ross Construction and Nabors Drilling.

First in the third event went to Sell Can Systems with Reagan Seely second, North End Oil Industries third and Gunnar Hanson Construction fourth.

The raffle of a propane barbecue was won by Lorna Krukowski of Warburg.

Twenty-eight rinks participated in the spili.

The Dennis Carson rink from Breton was defeated in the first event final at the Buck Lake mixed bonspiel Feb. 17. The Joe Howshowsky rink from St. Francis took top honors.

Sympathy is extended to Velma Greenwood, Muriel Hanson and Verma Carson on the death of their brother, Elgin Huntley of Acme, AB.

Three boys from the Breton scouts have an opportunity to go to the Canadian jamboree in Guelph, Ontario. They have received $600 from the Breton Elks and $850 from the Moose Hill Community Club to go toward expenses. As they are still short of funds, the boys are hoping to earn some money doing odd jobs. Anyone wishing to hire the boys can call scout leader Gerry Gray at 696-3695.

Kay Stout has been elected president of the Breton Hospital Auxiliary. Alma Gillies is vice-president with Rose Saunders handling the secretarial duties and Joan Wynnyk doing the treasurer's books. Dorothy Buchanan, Dorothy McCartney and Muriel Hanson are the directors; canteen ordering, Marie Frank and Bernice Hoff; historians are Rose Saunders, Alma Gillies and Jean Levers; canteen phoning, Elsie Fleisher.

The quilt blocks arrived for the two Red Cross quilts for Dorothy Buchanan and Jean Levers to put the tops together. The quilts were tied on Feb. 4 and were ready to be sent away Feb. 7. These quilts are for fire victims. Edie Shave donated a baby crib quilt for the Red Cross. Alma and Bernice volunteered to make another quilt top to be finished later for a raffle.

The Warburg mites held an eight-team hockey tournament Feb. 9 and 10. The 'A' side was captured by Stony Plain by defeating Wetaskiwin in the final. Calmar defeated the Warburg team in the 'B' final. Other teams were from Drayton Valley, Leduc, Thorsby and Devon.

There will be a bridal shower at the Funnell Centre March 3 at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Rene Brunneau, formerly Nancy Ellis, who was married Feb. 14. Ladies please bring lunch.

WE WROTE THE BOOK ON RRSP's.

The Scotiabank RRSP 'Answer Book' is one book you should have if you want to defer income taxes.

If you won't cost you a cent and it will show you how a contribution to an RRSP is deductible from your current taxable income. And how your savings will accumulate through the tax free compounding of your money.

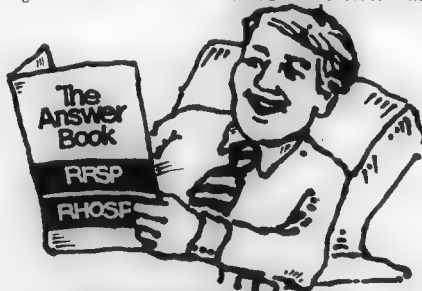

The 'Answer Book' will also give you the answers to the most commonly asked questions about a Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP).

For instance: How much can you contribute? How is your money invested? How can you use your RRSP savings at retirement?

Come to the RRSP 'Answer Centre' at any Scotiabank branch for your free copy of the 'Answer Book'. And if you need additional information, we have Scotiabank 'Answer People' available to answer your questions. They can show you a variety of deposit options and even lend you the money to make your RRSP contribution.

There is no opening fee and no administration fee for a Scotiabank RRSP*. Deadline for 1984 tax deductible contributions is March 1, 1985.

Recreation master plan being reviewed

By Phil Courterelle

Revising the town's recreation master plan is an essential step in developing guidelines necessary for allocating the province's new community grants, recreation director Dennis Woolsey says.

In doing so, the recreation department will survey local groups to determine what their facility and operational needs are, he said.

The five-year Community Recreation and Culture Grants (CRC) were announced last fall by the Department of Parks and Recreation and succeeded the Major Culture and Recreation Facility Grant Program (MCR) which ended last December.

The CRC program becomes available in April this year and allocates funds on a matching system for both capital and operational needs. The CRC will allocate $15 per capita to municipalities.

One major difference between MCR and the new program is the municipality is required to develop its own guidelines as to how the funds are distributed.

And the recreation master plan is a key guide to the community's needs.

When the town's five-year plan was written and tabled in late 1982, it reflected community needs at that time — which included the indoor swimming pool — and did not readily include some major facilities such as the golf club or the ski hill and their needs, Woolsey said.

"I'm not saying if (the master plan) should be totally re-done, obviously there is some information that is still valid," he explained.

"Essentially the number one priority in the master plan is completed...and there's no doubt in my mind the master plan is geared towards the swimming pool. So a review of the plan is necessary to see if other needs are still valid."

Dennis Woolsey is the town's recreation director.

The recreation department survey — which is expected to be available within the next 10 days and to be completed by the end of March — will help determine where and how the CRC funds should be directed and if there are still capital requirements in the community.

One change in the grant scheme since it was announced is in the municipality/community group funding. Previously, the government had outlined a 70-30 split in favor of the community groups but at the urging of the municipalities, has changed it to a 50-50 split.

The reasoning, Woolsey explained, in smaller municipalities residents "look to the town for their major facilities; they expect these facilities to be provided by the municipality."

"What is (the funding split) is saying is the municipality has a lot more freedom to use these dollars and meet the community's needs."

The option to divide the funds as outlined by the government is still available, Woolsey said, but the change has "provided us with a lot more flexibility."

The town's questionnaire will seek information regarding existing groups and their needs.

"As far as individuals and individual needs we haven't totally determined how we're going to meet them or how we're going to gather data to evaluate them," he said.

"There's no point in creating new services at the expense of existing ones."

"We have some excellent services out there and some people doing some fine things and we don't want to hurt them by doing something contrary to their existence."

AOC

FINANCING ALBERTA BUSINESS

The Alberta Opportunity Company provides financial and counselling assistance to small business enterprises.

Warm Air Front ...and Centre

It's minus 40 degrees. You're working outdoors in the oil-patch, where a breathing apparatus is part of your standard safety equipment. All is not unbearably cold, however, if you're breathing air supplied by Garry Scallen's Hi-Level Safety Service.

Garry pioneered the idea of pre-warming breathing apparatus air so oilpatch workers would be more comfortable. That's just one of the reasons his safety service company is a front-runner in the business.

But it wasn't easy getting started. Garry went to conventional lenders back in 1981, but their position was one of extreme caution towards financing new companies. So, he talked to AOC.

AOC recognized the merit of Garry's unique service idea, and after reviewing its potential, provided the financing he needed to get started. Today, Hi-Level Safety Service, (1983 Ltd.), has offices in Grande Prairie, High Level and Red Deer, and employs over a dozen Albertans.

If you have a sound business idea, but you're unable to obtain financing through regular lending sources, call or visit your nearest AOC office and ask for our brochure, Financing Alberta Business.

Education Week

County of Parkland Public Schools

March 4 - 8

"Give A Little - Get A Lot"

"Education: The most important resource a community can provide."

The public schools of the County of Parkland are pleased to provide a list of events of this important week to parents. Education Week offers an opportunity for all those who care about children to work together to promote the value of education to Alberta students.

We urge you to take this opportunity to visit the school in your community; to see children, school staff, and volunteers giving in order that those on the educational ladder will get a lot. Indeed, the community is providing a resource of the highest value.

County of Parkland No. 31

Blueberry Community School Principal - B. Boul

Education Week at Blueberry Community School will relate to the theme: "Alberta's Youth: Young and Alive in '85."

- Monday - Chinese Artist, Wang Ziko will demonstrate his techniques for Grade 6 and junior high art students.
- "Spirit Day" rally. Students have challenged the staff to a floor hockey game during noon hour.
- High School Orientation for grade 9 students given by Memorial Composite teachers and counsellors.
- Tuesday - Author, Monica Hughes, will conduct a workshop for grade 8 and 9 students.
- Wednesday - Blueberry Community School annual Science Fair, grades 4 - 9.
- Hospital Day for grade 1 students.
- Thursday - Open House for parents and community members from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. featuring:
 - winning science fair exhibits.
 - orientation for parents of grade 9 students.
 - presentation on the Human Sexuality strand of the health curriculum.
 - student presentations including skits, poetry, debates, etc.
 - displays of student work.
 - home-baked goodies in Blueberry's Coffee House.
- Friday - Presentation for Grade 9's from "Hire-a-Student", featuring job applications and interviews.

Blueberry Community School

Brookwood Elementary School Principal - B. Henker

Although we at Brookwood are committed to education throughout the entire year, we are especially enthusiastic about sharing the importance of education and the joy that comes from learning during Education Week. Our students and parents will be involved in:

- sharing special student projects with one another.
- raising funds to support the Canadian Cancer Society and Steve Fony's cross-Canada run.
- hosting an open house for parents on the morning of Wednesday, March 6.
- inviting parents to attend a "Thinking Awareness Night" on the evening of Wednesday, March 6, in order to share computers and "creative thinking".

Brookwood School

Braxton Park Principal - R. Cameron

Braxton Park School has various special events planned for Education Week. There will be a special presentation for Home Economics students; a talent show; a "Teacher Exchange" among the classes; a visit by Board of Education members; and, a "Handicapped Day" during which some students will simulate various physical handicaps, so as to better understand the problems of their handicapped schoolmates.

The annual Open House will be Wednesday evening, March 6th. Classrooms will house displays and demonstrations, and there will also be special presentations by the sports teams, cheerleaders, band and choral groups, drama students and French students. The public is warmly invited.

"Braxton Park Band in Practice Session"

Duffield School Principal - P. Powell

Duffield School is a portrait of what can happen when a group of caring people, students, their parents and staff work together to deliver the best education possible. At Duffield, every week is Education Week.

We will be holding an Open House on Wednesday, March 6th, during the school day. All of our parents are cordially invited to visit our classes. We are proud of our staff who are heavily involved in curricular and extra curricular activities. Our school is known for its athletic and fine arts program, plus its frequent and different newsletter. We also have a large number of volunteer parents and an active and innovative P.T.A. At Duffield we believe the student comes first, and we are committed to a quality education for each and every student.

Duffield School

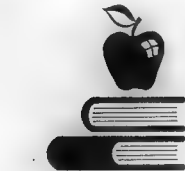

Eldorado Elementary School Principal - M. Pearson

Students at Eldorado are enthusiastic about our new computer program. A computer lab has been set up with every class spending two periods per week on computer. During Education Week, parents are invited at scheduled times to come in and observe their child working on the computer.

Other activities include Open House to be held from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, March 7, 1985 as well as special activities in the classroom throughout the week.

Eldorado student practices computer skills

Elementary "B" School
Grades 3 - 6
Principal - E. Koorn

There will be various activities taking place during the week. The highlight will be teachers and students hosting an open house on Wednesday evening, March 6th, from 6:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Featured items will be:

- displays of student work in each homeroom.
- a grade 5 meeting for outdoor education.
- a grade 6 debate.
- a Skip-Rope-for-Heart demonstration.
- a computer club demonstration.
- a parent advisory committee information table.
- an Alberta Agriculture nutrition information table.

A student from Elementary "B" is congratulated by the superintendent.

Entwistle School
Grades K - 9
Principal - R. Stetter

Education Week shenanigans are happening at Entwistle. Leaping Laprechauns and Irish Blarney will highlight Education Week '85 at our school. This theme is part of our ongoing E.O.F. project which is intended to enhance various areas of the curriculum, especially Fine Arts, and to give students an appreciation of other cultures. Shenanigans throughout the week will include: art, writing, music, dancing, singing and tasting special Irish dishes. Parents will be invited to share with us the special projects presented on Friday morning and to attend a performance by the CHANCERS on Friday afternoon.

Entwistle School

Forest Green School
Grades K - 6
Principal - L. Lavatson

Education is Scientific! Forest Green School will be open to the public 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Thursday, March 7th. Refreshments will be available.

- School Science Fair. Projects by each Division II student will be judged by staff and students of Memorial Composite High School and displayed in the gym for viewing by the public. Division I classes will also have science displays in the gym.
- Science curriculum materials and strategies will be on display in every classroom and parents and the public are invited to browse through the rooms!
- Science Olympics - Teams of grade six students are competing in five scientific events - tower building, mind benders, bridge construction, 3-D posters and egg drop.

Forest Green School

Graminia School
Grades K - 9
Principal - L. Mumby

For Education Week this year, Graminia has planned a number of activities.

- Monday, March 4th parents will have the opportunity to become students for a day by sitting in on any class they choose.
- A spell-a-thon will be held March 6th in which all grades will compete in spelling tests. The students will obtain sponsors, and the proceeds will be towards the yearbook.
- Mukluk Day will be Friday, March 8th. The whole school will participate in a variety of wintery contests.
- Monday, March 11th, the culmination of our school science fair will be an evening in which parents are invited to view the science displays which will be set up in the gym.

Graminia School

Frank Maddock High School
Grades 10 - 12
Principal - R. Woods

Education Week is an exciting time for Frank Maddock since our 25th birthday occurs at this time of year. We are observing this special event in the following ways:

March 6 - a.m. Parent open house
 12:00 Pot luck luncheon
 p.m. Indoors and outdoors sports events

March 7 - A free pancake breakfast for students will be cooked by the staff.

Food Festivities at Frank Maddock

H.W. Pickup Junior High
Grades 7 - 9
Principal - C. Cavanagh

Our Education Week will feature an Open House on Thursday, March 7. On this day parents are invited to attend regular classes with their son/daughter. As well, there will be special displays of the students' art work. Industrial Arts will be doing regular classes but displays will be placed in the lab to show the various projects that they have made this year.

The computer laboratory classes will be demonstrating their various skills throughout the day. Home Economics has regular classes with displays of completed students projects.

Even though we have this special open House Day on Thursday we maintain an open house of year round and parents are invited anytime to drop into our school.

Industrial education student at H.W. Pickup

Keopphills School
Grades K - 6
Principal - L. Bryant

The main activity at Keopphills School will be a Science Fair to be held during the afternoon of Thursday, March 7th. Parents are invited to take part in the various activities that are planned for that day. Grades 1 & 2 are preparing a booklet about themselves called "Come & Meet" along with collections of a variety of items that they like.

The grades 3 to 6 classes will display a number of science projects they have worked on for the past few weeks. These will be shown in the school hallway and the gym. As well there will be a display of art work produced recently.

Parents may wish to try some of the material that is being used by the students in our computer program. Coffee and refreshments will be available in the staff room.

Keopphills School

Kitsaskinew School
Grades 1 - 9
Principal - S. Woloshyn

Your Way & My Way = Our Way

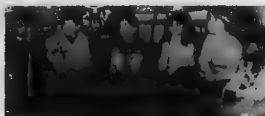

Parents will be invited to attend an evening presentation at Kitsaskinew School where members of the staff will share information regarding the school program.

The evening will provide:

- Background information used to set objectives for the school's programs.
- Outlines of the school's Cultural Enrichment and Language Arts programs.
- Displays of some of the books and materials used in the Language Arts program (Kindergarten to Grade Nine).
- Selected samples of written work completed by students at each grade level.

Students in the school will be involved with Education Week activities. The main theme of student activities will be "education is an important resource in the community!"

Remember, in Education you "Give a Little and Get a Lot!!"

Wildwood preparing for Klondike Days

By Hazel Winfield

Visiting at the Joe Andersons is their daughter from B.C.

The Wildwood Elks held an anniversary dinner, presentations and social evening Saturday in the Wildwood Community Hall.

Following dinner, Exalted Ruler Ron Hoffman welcomed all. Twenty-five year pins were presented to Nick Myschuk and Art Chernicki. Twenty-year pins were presented to Paul Limishka, Walter Nikoluk, Gerald Shenfield and Dick Michalchuk. Myschuk and Chernicki were presented with honorary life memberships and Gerry Life was elected Elk of the Year.

Klondike Days are near. March 1 is family night with nail driving, log sawing, beard contest and games for all ages.

The ladies of the Royal Purple will have the kitchen and bingo in the hall annex. Saturday night will be adult log sawing, nail driving and dinner and dance.

The Pembina River Riders held their annual meeting Feb. 8. Election of officers took place with Doris Williams elected president; Caroline Brown vice-president; treasurer M. Allen and secretary Louise Pazdzik.

Proposed Subdivision Of Land
The Battle River Regional Planning Commission has approved the subdivision of the following lands:
Pt. N.E. 5-49-5-W5M
Lyle & Shirley Purdy
Box 660, Breton, Alberta T0C 0P0
Country Residential Parcel
RL/84/30
Section 106 of the Planning Act, RSA 1980, as amended gives the owners of adjacent land the right of appeal against this decision. Adjacent land means land that is contiguous to the parcel that is the subject of the application for subdivision approval, and includes land that would be contiguous if not for a public roadway, river or stream.
An adjacent landowner wishing to exercise the right of appeal shall serve written notice on both the applicant for subdivision, and on the Appeals Manager, Alberta Planning Board, 9th Floor, Jarvis Buildings, 9225 - 107th Street, Edmonton, Alberta (phone 427-4864), within 14 days of the publication of this notice, stating his/her name and address, the location of the land in question, the file number quoted above, and the reasons for the appeal.
Note that proposed land use is not sufficient grounds for appeal.
Further information may be obtained from the Director, Battle River Regional Planning Commission, 5014 - 48 Avenue, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, (phone 352-2215).

Bachelor Day — another chance for girls

We end romantic February with Bachelor's Day, which is finding us in second quarter and Gemini, the sign when words flow like water.

Take a clue, bachelors and friends of bachelors, and say the words that should be said.

Complain, praise, explain or simply share your feelings, for you will never use words better. Listen but don't take others too seriously in Gemini. Some are merely letting off wind. Their promises will blow away in the next breeze.

March 2-3 will find us in the nurturing water sign of Cancer and in second quarter. Never have family ties been felt more strongly. Contact your relatives near and far. Plan family reunions and get-togethers and start researching your family tree.

On the reverse side, relatives can become too demanding and they can smother you with affection.

This is the time to start fattening hogs or cat-

A Farm Wife's Almanac

by Joanne Bengier

tle and skinny folk can begin a diet to gain weight. In a water sign with an increasing moon, there may be some trouble with water retention and its added poundage, especially for those born under a water sign.

March 4-5 will find us in the fire sign of Leo and in the last two days of second quarter.

Your energy is increasing with the moon. This makes these two days the ideal time for socializing, throwing a party, going for a pleasure trip and enjoying yourself.

It is a regal sign so be your most sophisticated and your most formal. This is the time for linen tablecloths and bone china.

Pe-s-s-t, balding men. Get a haircut now and your hair should grow back thicker.

Whose lucky week is it?

Scorpio remains our lucky sign with most fortunate birthdays all this week falling between Oct. 31 and Nov. 8. The lucky number to remember is 8.

Important days this week

Feb. 28 is Bachelor's Day which gives the girls another chance if the valentine didn't work.

March will come in like a lion or come in like a lamb, one can never be sure which.

March 1 is always St. David's Day, when the Welsh wear leeks in their hats and sing their anthem, 'Man of Harlech'. The leek and daffodil share the title of national emblems of Wales and the power of the leek must not be unappreciated, for the Welsh say, 'Eat leeks in July and garlic in May, and all the year the doctor may play.'

Say, I wonder if this remedy would help cut Medicare expenses!

Tomahawk to host weekend 'spiel

By Dorothy Tomke

H9-2470

A community club meeting was held Feb. 11 with Shirley Crippa as guest speaker. She touched on many topics of interest and concern to all present.

To all cowboys: The Tomahawk Rodeo has decided to go association this year and see how it works out.

If enough interest is shown there will be ballroom dance lessons, learning the one and two-step cotton-eyed joe, etc. If interested phone 339-3933 or 339-3957.

Pastor Mark and Cindy Sallath are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy born Feb. 13. A brother for Paul and Nathan. Cindy's mother is here helping out for three weeks. Arriving here from the Bahamas, she finds our sub-zero temperatures rather cold.

A 25-and-under bonspiel will be held March 1, 2, and 3. Phone entries to 339-2470.

The results of the Tomahawk fireman's annual mixed bonspiel are as follows:

Memorial Composite High School Grades 10 - 12 Principal - P. Fossum

Memorial Composite will welcome Alberto author Rag Silvester to our school library to discuss fiction, and to read from the works of Robert Krotsch and Michael Culan. The library is also sponsoring a Book Fair from March 6 to 8.

Mr. Wang, a noted Chinese painter, will demonstrate Oriental brush techniques.

We will also be welcoming various community groups who will be invited to tour the school. They will tour the building, visit classes, meet students and teachers, and take part in a feedback session (homework).

We plan to do some visiting as well. Our counsellors and administrators will attend meetings in the various junior high schools whose grade nine students will become part of Memorial next year.

Basketball games during "Spirit Week" at Memorial Composite High School

Meridian Heights Grades K - 7 Principal - R. Murray

Meridian Heights will be taking part in Education Week with a large fair. Our school will have an open house on Wednesday, March 6, 1985. The school will be open from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The theme "Give a little - Get a lot!" will be highlighted by a large Science Fair in the gymnasium and displays such as gymnastics, art, computers, and French will be presented. Mr. Smith will have students display gymnastics in the ancillary room along with Mrs. Cartwright's slipping display. The computer room, as well as other classrooms will be displaying students' works.

Parents will be able to receive a whole picture of the diversification of education, and the talents of our students, their children.

Meridian Heights School

Millgrove Elementary School Grades K - 6 Principal - J. Oldham

There will be two activities to highlight this special week.

Science Projects - Millgrove will be holding an Open House on Thursday, March 7th from 7:00 - 8:30 p.m. Students will be displaying science projects they have been working on in class and on their own time.

Hi Q - Modeled on Reach for the Top, our Hi Q interschool games will be played Tuesday and Thursday, March 5th & 7th after school between 3:40 and 4:40 p.m.

Millgrove School

Muir Lake Community School Grades K - 9 Principal - D. Walsh

Students, staff and parents are thrilled about the theme "Give a little - Get a lot!" since it focuses specifically on community interaction, education and exposure which is what Muir Lake is all about.

The highlight of our week may well be the Science Fair (Grades K-9). In hopes of serving a need in the community, each person viewing the Science Fair must present a can of food for the local food bank.

The office may take on some new character with "Administration Sharing" which will allow one student from each grade to become Principal for one half-day.

A special evening has been planned to host a professional guest, Doug Krantz, speaking on "Discipline". At this time, we will honor certain groups who are committed to improving community education.

Field trips, the Grade 3 Citizen Exchange, extra-curricular basketball and community curriculum will continue as usual during the week.

We look forward to a very rewarding and educational week with morning, afternoon, and evening activities organized for people of all ages.

Cooking up a storm at Muir Lake Community School

Parkland Village School Grades K - 6 Principal - S. Gokiert

The overall theme we will be promoting during Education Week is "Parkland Village Pride". "We are proud to be part of Parkland Village, Let's Show It." Parkland Village is a place for Laughing, Loving, Living and Learning.

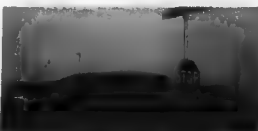

The students from E.C.S. to grade six who have the best response to our theme will read their descriptions over the P.A. System.

Lower and higher grades are matched for teaching/learning new co-operative recess games.

Hot and badge day will give the children an opportunity of creatively displaying their work in designing Parkland Village hats and badges.

On March 7th we will have the evening to show off our Science Fair exhibits and also Art Displays.

There will be awards presented for neatness and orderly areas of the school.

Parkland Village School

Queen Street School Grades 1 - 6 Principal - R. Hogg

The major events for the week are:

- Monday evening, staff members speak to University of Alberta senior students about integration of curriculum.

- Tuesday morning, 50 students participate in the National Mathematics League contest.
- Tuesday 7:30 - 8:30 p.m., Parent Advisory Group sponsor Citizens Concerned with Crimes against Children presentation.

During the week

- grade five and six students writing to Bill Purdy (MLA) to tell about positive activities at the school.
- classes dedicating time to discuss the theme using teaching-pedagogy materials.
- grade five class presenting sample integrated theme on "Flight"

Thursday 6:30 - 8:30 p.m.

- grade one classroom open house
- grades two and three students present computer projects.

- grades five and six students present science fair.

- Friday afternoon students interviewed by their teachers and report cards sent home.

Melkuk Days of Queen Street

Soba Beach School Grades K - 12 Principal - T. Turnbull

The highlight of Education Week will be the Canadiana Speech Night which takes place in the school gymnasium on Wednesday, March 6th and involves every student in the school.

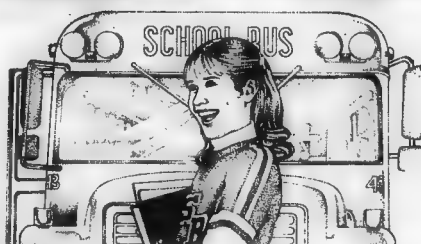

Other Education Week activities include:

- The high school students' union Mini Olympics.
- The Division I indoor track meet.
- "Parkland Participates" programme in cooperation with the County Parks and Recreation Department.
- Music and physical education displays.
- Guest speakers from: Hire A Student, the Department of Social Services, The Alberta Trucking Association and The DeVry Institute of Technology.
- High school ski trips to Silver Summit.
- Open House on the afternoon of March 6.

Parents and friends are invited to attend all activities.

Spruce Grove Composite High School
Grades 10 - 12
Principal R. Anton

Spruce Grove Composite High School whole-heartedly endorses the concept and program of the CAPS conference being held at the high school on March 9. Of particular interest to parents will be the session presented by Barbara Colorado.

Some of the Education Week activities involving Spruce Grove Composite High School include:

- counselors visiting Jr. High Schools to orient students to grade 10.
- Tuesday, March 5 - Dr. H. Lutzer of Concordia College meeting with grade 12 students.
- Wednesday, March 6 - Parent-Information session at 7:30 p.m., Horizon Stage, for parents of grade 9 students who will be coming to grade 10.
- Laser surgery session by Mr. R. Martinuk at 8:45 a.m., Room 313.
- Automotives students will be providing free car washes and safety inspections for senior citizens. Please telephone the school for an appointment.
- English students will be writing essays on topics related to education, with a view to publication in the Grove Examiner.

Stony Plain Elementary School
Grades 1-7
Principal - A. Olson

Two activities of interest to parents and community members have been scheduled.

- On Sunday, March 3, from 1:00 - 5:00 p.m. and Monday, March 4, from 6:00 - 7:00 p.m. a "Used Book Sale" will take place. Books, records and magazines collected during the school year will be on sale. No item will be priced higher than $1.00. Proceeds will go toward purchase of computers and related software.

March 4, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., an information session on the "Human Sexuality" component of the new health program will be hosted by the staff with assistance from Mrs. Bevan, Director of Curriculum, and Mrs. Couves, Stony Plain - Lac Ste. Anne Health Unit. Information will be provided for this component which will be introduced in the 1985-86 school year. It is hoped that parents with students in any year level will attend and provide their valued input.

Wabamun School
Grades 1-9
Principal - D. Kondruk

Wabamun School strives to keep a program which stresses the academic subject areas while keeping in mind that exploring a wide variety of leisure-oriented activities is also necessary to prepare students in our changing world. Both academic and leisure pursuits are important. We are focusing on computer-assisted instruction and are preparing final exams in math and language arts. We are also providing extra experiences in a down-hill skiing club, tumbling club, and a X-country skiing club. We are involved in the Youth Year programs and the ECF enrichment in instrumental music, fine arts, and computer proficiency at most levels. A further school-based project of building a tire playground equipment makes for a full year's effort.

Accreditation survey slated for hospital

The Drayton Valley and District Health Care Complex will undergo its first accreditation survey early this March and hospital administrators are hoping for a positive outcome.

"In the old one we met (required) standards and in moving to the new hospital we've carried those standards forward and improved on them," the complex's executive director, Jim Jansen, said Wednesday.

The old facility underwent the extensive evaluation last year and received accreditation. It had lost status in 1980 and was requested to develop written policies regarding hospital procedures that previously were issued orally. Accreditation was granted for one year.

In moving to the new facility last May, the hospital's administration maintained those policies and developed new ones to deal with new circumstances and staffing — such as in the auxiliary and nursing home areas, Jansen said in an interview.

The survey will be conducted by a representative of the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation, an arm of the Canadian Hospital Association.

The two-day survey, beginning March 10, will evaluate the entire hospital operation, including physical plants, administration and medical care. After more than nine months of active patient care, the health complex is still experiencing some "growing pains" Jansen said.

While the hospital hasn't developed any major problems, it has had "minor" difficulties.

Most of the problems "we're resolving day to day and those (type) you'll get in any new building and you'll get them on a continual basis," he said, adding the hospital's physical plant, which controls such areas as water heating and air condition has not gone through an entire year and as such still has a few "kinks" in it.

The hospital administration has also undergone a six-month evaluation by the province for its 1985 budget. The survey evaluates present staff and service levels "and funds according to government studies on hospital experiences (averages) throughout the province," Jansen said. Last year, the health care complex was approved a $5 million budget.

The hospital has also requested provincial funding for ultra sound equipment, but to date, no decision has been announced.

Benger wins

Barry J. Benger of Drayton Valley has won the $3,000 Louise McKinney scholarship at the University of Lethbridge.

Freight subsidies extended to counties

AT LAST! The real truth about feed freight assistance! Approval has been granted to extend the subsidy on feed freight to farmers in the Leduc and Parkland Counties. I hope we have the forms in our office by the middle of next week. Thank you for your patience ... now here are some particulars.

I'll abbreviate the eligibility guidelines to try to make this readable. To qualify:

- 1) You should be an Alberta resident who owned eligible livestock on August 1, 1984.
- 2) Eligible livestock are classed as breeding stock (not feeders) specifically beef and dairy cows, PMU mares, sheep and goats. Also in order to be eligible you must have owned them Aug. 1, 1984.
- 3) Feeds eligible under the program are described as hay, straw, cubed or pelleted roughage, and silage. These feeds must have been purchased between July 1, 1984 and June 30, 1985. You will also need some proof of the distance hauled.

The D.A. Column

by Doug Walkey
542-5368

- 4) There are three "maximum" subsidy payments to consider. First is a maximum of $25 per cow or mare and $5 per sheep or goat owned by Aug. 1, 1984.

- 5) The second maximum is $30 per ton of hay, straw and pellets and $12 per ton for silage, based on hauling over 25 miles.

- 6) The third maximum is two tons of hay (equiv.) per beef cow or PMU mare, four tons per dairy cow and 0.4 tons per sheep or goat.

That's about it. If you have any questions give us a call.

ARIES

(March 21-April 20) A conflict with a friend may bring out the worst in you. Prove yourself resilient, be willing to forgive and forget. Don't let the anxiety caused by your job get you down.

TAURUS

(April 21-May 21) Don't lose sight of your initial responsibility. Set your priorities accordingly. Be willing to make changes. Friday will be your lucky day when you will unexpectedly come into a small sum of money.

GEMINI

(May 22-June 21) By setting expectations too high, you will be setting yourself up for a meltdown. Don't expect more from others than you are willing to put in.

CANCER

(June 22-July 23) You will be regarded as a positive force in your work setting. Use that to further your position. Prepare information to be presented later in the week.

LEO

(July 24-Aug. 23) Your lover will gain new insights at the beginning of the week. You will be rewarded for performing a good deed during the weekend.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24-Sept. 23) When asked to justify a stance, present only the facts. You will be applauded for a generous contribution Friday. Treat yourself on the weekend by doing something special for yourself!

LIBRA

(Sept. 24-Oct. 23) A relative will cause you to think of family obligations in a new light. If there are problems in your past, now is the time to start looking for the remedy.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24-Nov. 23) A budding relationship will keep your spirits consistently high throughout the week. You will feel a new-found confidence that will allow you to be more assertive than you even thought possible.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The respect that you have for others should be a mutual feeling. You will find by the midweek that an authority is more self-centered than you think. Don't let disillusionment affect your work.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 20) A sick day at the beginning of the week will slow you down at the start. The important thing is not to panic. By Thursday there will be some improvement.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21-Feb. 19) Enhance your prospects by seeking out contacts. Frustration with your job will set you thinking more seriously about an impending job change. Ask friends to keep their eyes open for opportunities for you.

PISCES

(Feb. 20-March 20) A heightened awareness of a friend's behavior will make you more sensitive in future dealings with this person. An unusual occurrence late in the week will make you think twice about your current situation.
